WARSAW (AP)—“Clean our weapons, always keep our vigilance and stay on full alert,” Soviet Premier Khrushchev told the Communist bloc Tuesday night after attacking Sen. Barry Goldwater and the Republican platform. Khrushchev spoke at a celebration of Poland's 20th anniversary as a Communist nation after the U.S. and British ambassadors walked out in protest against attacks on U.S. policy by Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka. Calls Platform War Like Assailing the Republican platform as warlike, Khrushchev said it was adopted in San Francisco “in an atmosphere reminiscent of the fascist (Nazi) gatherings in Nuremberg.”

First Court Tests on CR Decision Due

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A three-judge federal panel ponders a decision today in the first court tests of the recently enacted Civil Rights Act.

The tests involve a restaurant owner who contends the law is illegal and does not apply to him, and a motel owner who wants to bar the government from enforcing it.

Two separate suits are involved. They were heard by the same three-judge panel. The suit against restaurant owner Lester Maddox was filed by three Negroes who were turned away from the restaurant.

Alerted for Film Before Maddox turned the Negroes away July 3, he notified newspapers and television stations that something was about to happen.

Thus, the government was able to introduce film and sound tapes at the hearing. The film showed Maddox brandishing a pistol as other white persons stood by with ax handles.

Interstate commerce is the crux of the issue in the suit against Maddox.

The civil rights law applies to businesses serving or offering to serve interstate travelers and having received a substantial portion of their goods through interstate commerce.

Thirteen wholesale grocery and meat dealers testified at the Maddox hearing completed Monday. They said that between 50 and 92 per cent of their goods came from other states.

Won't Serve Negroes Maddox, who did not testify, said earlier that it is his policy not to serve Negroes and that his policy will continue, since he considers this to be his constitutional right.

14, 259 Reported As Legal Bingo Players in County

A total of 14,259 Ulster County legal bingo players paid $61.11 and won $43,168 in prizes during a period between October 1, 1963 to March 31, 1964, a summary of financial statements of bingo operations in the state revealed today.

The report of the State Bingo Control Commission indicated that 10 Ulster County organizations operated legal bingo games on 155 occasions for a total of 4,082 games.

The total net profit to organizations during the period was $14,244, less than 25 per cent of the total gross receipts.

For the same period in Upstate counties 3,884,222 players paid $16,037,457 to win $10,823,239 in prizes. This involved 813 organizations on 17,758 occasions and includes 493,959 games played. The total net profit to the organizations is $4,218,784.

The commission report has 14 Dutchess County organizations reporting 297 occasions, 7,663 games, 44,061 players, $215,769 paid and $146,851 won in prizes with a net profit of $38,513.

Orange Co. Has Two Road Fatalities Within Two Days

Two persons were killed and four others were seriously injured Tuesday and today, in separate highway accidents that were investigated by troopers assigned to Orange County substations. Criminal action is pending as the result of one of the mishaps.

The dead: Peter Gray, 28, of Long Beach, N. Y., who was fatally injured when his car crashed into several trees off Route 17M, Town of Goshen, at 1 a. m. today.

Irma Teichner, 67, of 115 East 69th Street, New York City, who was killed in a two-car crash on Route 1A at the intersection of Ackerman Road, Town of Warwick, at about 10:35 a. m. Tuesday.

Hits Several Trees Middletown State Police told the Freeman, Gray was driving north on Route 17M when his car careened off the pavement and hit several trees as the vehicle sped a distance of about 500 feet. The car was literally ripped to pieces, troopers said.

Excessive speed was blamed for the mishap, according to state police.

Dr. Hudson Thompson of Circleville, an Orange County coroner said Gray died of a fractured skull. He ruled the death accidental.

Mrs. Teichner was riding with two other persons at the time she was fatally injured.

Car Hit Broadside Monroe State Police told newsmen that a 1964 car owned by Robert Kinsella, of 247 North 9th Street, Prospect Park, N. J., was traveling east on Route 17A, when a second vehicle owned by Chrysler Leasing Corp., Center Line, Mich., entered the highway from Ackerman Road and hit the Kinsella car broadside.

Three occupants of the Chrysler Corp. car were ejected from the vehicle by the impact. They included Mrs. Teichner; Henry Teichner, age unknown, of the New York City address, who suffered shock and lacerations of the body; and Martha Rosenberg, 36, of 103 86th Street, New York City, who sustained a skull fracture.

According to a report of Trooper Peter Zack of Monroe, Teichner is believed to have been (Continued on Page 20, Col. 3)

Mayor Asks Council Vote On Bond to Finish Streets

Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr. today said he has asked the Common Council to reconvene next Tuesday to reconsider action on a second-phase street repair program.

Carroll said he is calling the meeting in compliance with a recent letter from Mayor Schwenk, which said:

“Due to the rapidly dwindling time for street work remaining in this season, I feel it is imperative that a decision be reached on the second phase of the 1964 street program.”

“If the Department of Public Works does not start work on this phase soon, it will be impossible to complete the program prepared by the Board of Public Works.”

Assailing the Republican platform as warlike, Khrushchev said it was adopted in San Francisco “in an atmosphere reminiscent of the fascist (Nazi) gatherings in Nuremberg.”

“The candidate put forward for the presidency,” Khrushchev continued without calling Goldwater by name, “made it clear that he wants to enter the White House under the slogans of unbridled anti-communism and war threats.”

“The Soviet Union has already existed for 47 years. During this period we have seen various mad and half-mad men. We have never been afraid nor are we afraid of threats. We cannot be indifferent, however, toward threats.”

Gomulka See Defeat Gomulka also attacked Goldwater. He said it was doubtful the Republican candidate would be elected, “but the very fact that a man of his caliber has been nominated illustrates by itself the danger threatening peace in the world on the part of aggressive imperialist circles in the United States and their West German allies, who demand nuclear weapons.”

U.S. Ambassador John Moore Cabot walked out after Gomulka declared that the United States and West Germany have “a common platform of militant anti-communism and of pushing the world to the brink of war.”

British Ambassador Sir George Lisle Clutton, the dean of the Warsaw diplomatic corps, left after Gomulka finished. British sources said he considered the speech rough and distasteful.

Electrol Payroll Is Coming Today A final payroll for employees of Electrol Inc., 85 Grand Street, recently closed, is due to come through after some delay, it was learned today.

Employees of the plant, who had pay checks coming after its closing, it was learned today, had been considering legal action, because the payroll was delayed beyond the deadline of seven days.

Robert Myers, of Fairview Avenue, a former employee at the plant, and president of the machinists' union, said he had received a copy of a telegram from the Avien Corp. of Long Island, saying the payroll was to be forwarded today.

At the same time, the commission also authorized the company to establish uniform locality rate areas beyond the New Palz, Clintondale and Cleveland in which subscribers can make toll-free phone calls.

Dozen Are Not Behind Goldwater Views Are Revised Might Change If

A dozen Republican politicians, including New York's two senators, say they can't support GOP nominee Barry Goldwater for president—as of now.

None bolted the party. None said he would campaign for President Johnson.

Most said Tuesday they might back the Arizona senator if he clarifies or revises his views.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York announced their stands in separate news conferences.

Both supported Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for the GOP nomination, and switched to Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania when Rockefeller withdrew.

Will Work on Platform Javits, who is not up for re-election this year, said he would work for a state platform along the lines proposed by Scranton for a national platform at the San Francisco convention.

He said he hopes Goldwater will do something to enable him to support the national ticket.

Keating said he hasn't decided if he will seek re-election this year, but if he does it will be as an independent Republican.

Rockefeller has said he would support the GOP ticket. But he sharply criticized the statement on extremism Goldwater made in his speech accepting the presidential nomination. Since then Rockefeller has made no further statement.

One prominent New York Republican, State Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, said he expected that “all Republicans will be able to support the Goldwater-Miller ticket as the campaign unfolds.”

Others Holding Off Other Republicans said they are holding off support of Goldwater. They included Gov. John H. Reed of Maine, Rep. Silvio O. Conte of Massachusetts, State Senate Majority Leader William E. Ozzard of New Jersey, Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Maryland, Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin of Baltimore, a former governor; and Rep. James G. Fulton of Pennsylvania.

Fulton said he felt more akin to President Johnson than to Goldwater but might write in a vote for Scranton.

Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey said his mail is 20-1 in favor of his decision not to support Goldwater unless the Arizona modifies his views.

Mckeldin said he understood new voter registrations in Baltimore are 10-1 Democratic, while the normal ratio is 3-1.

In Harvey, Ill., the Rev. Wilbur N. Daniel, Negro candidate for Congress on Chicago's South Side, said he would not support Goldwater.

In Seattle, Lou Kessler, former chief parole and probation officer for the state of Washington, filed as a candidate for governor opposing two GOP candidates he said had tied themselves to Goldwater's coattails.

Local Areas Are Expanded to Make Toll-Free Calls

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission today authorized the New York Telephone Co. to expand the areas in New Palz, Clintondale and Cleveland in which subscribers can make toll-free phone calls.

At the same time, the commission also authorized the company to establish uniform locality rate areas beyond the New Palz, Clintondale and Cleveland exchanges.

Locality rates apply on an average basis to a given area. The changes will result in reduced monthly bills for most of the subscribers affected. The total reduction will be about $13,440, the company says.

The New Palz exchange serves about 4,000 stations in and near New Palz and Gardiner, Ulster County. The Clintondale exchange serves about 1,050 stations in and near Clintondale, Ardonia and Modena in Ulster County. The Cleveland exchange serves about 760 stations in portions of Oneida and Oswego Counties in and near Cleveland, Gernhardt Bay and Jewell.

60 Attend Meeting on Landfill In 5th Ward, Data Given Today

Some 60 parents and alumnae met at St. Ursula's Academy Tuesday evening to hear Roland Augustine, chairman of the meeting, summarize facts about the proposed city dump to be located in the Kingston Point lagoon in the vicinity of the academy.

Chairman Augustine said a list of some 30 questions would be submitted to the city administration relative to the proposed landfill dump.

He said since Mayor John J. Schwenk or no member of his staff was able to accept the invitation which had been extended, the questions had remained unanswered.

Chairman Augustine stated that the proposed area was tidal water and would be affected by the action of tides.

Other objections were the odor which would accompany the dump, rats and vermin.

It is maintained that if dumping was started in one area the distance from the school could be 2,500 feet or if started in another area it could be 1,000 feet or even 300 feet.

The proposed questions will be submitted to the Fifth Ward Community Association Committee meeting tonight for its consideration and will also be submitted to Mayor Schwenk.

Members of the Parent's Association have volunteered to contribute toward the Fifth Ward Community Association's legal fund. St. Ursula's Alumnae has already pledged a contribution.

Mayor Schwenk today, quoting from a preliminary report from Pride Consultants, Inc., said that report indicated that the cost per ton for land fill was from 50 cents to $1.25 while the cost of incineration, according to the report might vary from $6 to $7.50 a ton.

Present cost of refuse collection now is approximately $90,000, Mayor Schwenk said, and based (Continued on Page 10, Col. 1)

Violence Flares in Brooklyn Relatively Calm. Report in Harlem

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI is probing possible Communist influence in the city's racial violence, which continued throughout the night in Brooklyn's Negro section and resulted in the critical wounding of two Negroes by police.

Acting Mayor Paul R. Sorensen said the Harlem disorders had been incited in part by “fringe groups, including the Communist party.”

The FBI investigation began on orders from President Johnson.

Meanwhile, Harlem, where rioting started Saturday night following protest rallies over the fatal shooting of a Negro boy by an off-duty police officer, was relatively quiet Tuesday night.

In Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, police fired at looters. Dozen of store windows were broken.

About two dozen persons were arrested.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner cut short a European vacation because of the violence.

Wagner said he would look into the report of Communist influence. He said he did not believe federal troops or the National Guard would be needed to preserve order.

No Large Crowds Police reported a number of the burglaries in Harlem, the big Negro neighborhood in Manhattan. A few shots were fired by police to disperse unruly gatherings. But there were no large crowds, demonstrations or anything like the weekend rioting in which one man was killed and more than 100 injured.

In Brooklyn, the trouble started after a Black Nationalist street rally that drew about 500 Negroes. Firecrackers exploded in the crowd and many people scattered in panic.

More than 200 police moved in to quell the disturbance. They fired more than 150 shots in the air. Bottles were thrown. Store windows were broken. Subways were ordered to skip the Franklin and Nostrand street stops for a time.

The crowd broke up after an hour or two and police began getting reports of looting throughout the section.

About 24 Negroes were taken into custody.

A police sergeant said Sumner Avenue was “all torn up,” with many store windows broken.

Police Are Cursed Small crowds gathered at stores where burglar alarms rang in the night. They cursed police whenever patrolmen appeared.

At police headquarters in Manhattan about 250 white teenagers hurled rotten eggs at 16 members of the Congress of Racial Equality, who were picketing Tuesday night against what they called police brutality.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm, who was talking to reporters when the barrage started, ran to escape it, but was hit on the leg.

The teenagers, who live near the headquarters, shouted “Go back to Harlem” and “Communists” at the pickets.

Girl With Polio Is Reported by Health Director A suspected case of polio involving a teenage girl in the Kingston area is now under observation, Dr. Theodore S. Drachman, county health commissioner, announced today, and he advised that persons, who have not recently enough been given “a booster” as a protection against the disease to consult their physicians.

His announcement, he said, was mainly to inform the public of the suspected case and provided opportunity to take protective action, and was not intended to spread alarm. The girl is under observation at a hospital.

John J. Sheeley, 57, of 224 Main Street, Kingston, treasurer and long-time employ of Ferroxcube Corporation of America at Saugerties, died Tuesday night at Benedictine Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Sheeley joined Ferroxcube shortly after its formation in 1950 and was elected assistant treasurer in April 1957. In January 1962 he was named treasurer.

A native of Kingston, he was a son of the late Henry and Mary Murphy Sheeley. He attended St. Joseph's Parochial School and graduated from Kingston High School in 1924, and later from Moran's Business School, Kingston.

Western Ministers Pondering Solution of Cuban Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP)—Urged on by a march of Cuban exiles, some of whom rioted briefly Tuesday, foreign ministers of Western Hemisphere nations considered today what steps to take against Cuban aggression.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, pushing the United States request for action, was among the day's scheduled speakers.

A clash of several hundred Cubans with hastily summoned police marred what had started out as a peaceful demonstration by more than 5,000 Cuban exiles who came here to urge action against the Castro regime.

400 Police in Action More than 400 metropolitan and park policemen, some on horseback and motorcycles, helped quell the disturbance which broke out when some of the marchers insisted on leaving the parade route to head to the Pan American Union building where the foreign ministers are meeting.

Two Cubans and a park policeman received hospital treatment and about 45 other Cubans were treated for cuts, bruises, exhaustion and heat prostration.

Three men and one woman, arrested on disorderly conduct charges, were released after posting collateral.

Blame Infiltration In Miami, organizers of the march charged that “Castro people” infiltrated their ranks and were responsible for the trouble.

The parade had been organized to march from the Washington Monument to the Lincoln Memorial and back to support the cause of sanctions against Cuba. Some insisted on going on toward the meeting site.

Mounted policemen rode slowly into the crowd, forcing those in front back against others following. Many fell to the ground in the crush.

Aided by leaders of the march, police soon restored order and the crowds melted away.

Signs Against Russia Most of the demonstrators had appeared in a happy mood as they carried signs “Cuba si, Russia no,” and “We save Cuba or we lose America.” They had gathered here from Miami, New York, Baltimore and other East Coast cities as well as from Chicago.

Venezuela is pressing the Organization of American States for complete sanctions against Cuba under the 1947 Inter-American Treaty. An OAS investigating committee has supported Venezuela's charge that Castro agents planted a three-ton cache of arms in Venezuela to supply pro-Communist guerrillas.

157 Arrested Acting Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak, who flew here from Kuala Lumpur, the Malaysian capital, announced the official toll from Tuesday night's violence at a news conference. He said 157 persons had been arrested on various charges.

Razak said the curfew would remain in effect until further notice. It will be lifted for three and a half hours Thursday morning to give residents a chance to buy food and other necessities.

Singapore's streets were deserted except for patrols of soldiers and riot police. Security forces with fixed bayonets had pushed everyone off the streets who tried to ignore the daytime curfew.

U.S. Car Attacked During Tuesday night's fighting rioters attacked a U.S. consulate car in which Charles J. Rogers of Santa Cruz, Calif., a diplomatic courier, was riding with a Malay driver.

Rogers said the mob, which he believed was composed mainly of Chinese, smashed the car's windows and headlights with clubs and bottles. The Malay driver was cut by flying glass.

Among Best Managed Dr. Higgins' report to the Accreditation Commission of the College of American Pathologists said: “I spent most of the day at the City of Kingston Laboratory. . . I found that this laboratory to be among the best managed that I have ever seen. The standards are of the highest possible, and many of the innovations instituted by the director, Dr. Herbert Derman, I intend to use in my own laboratory.”

Two things he especially found were:

1. The formation of a separate section, police fired at looters. Dozen of store windows were broken.

About 24 Negroes were taken into custody.

A police sergeant said Sumner Avenue was “all torn up,” with many store windows broken.

Fulton said he felt more akin to President Johnson than to Goldwater but might write in a vote for Scranton.

Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey said his mail is 20-1 in favor of his decision not to support Goldwater unless the Arizona modifies his views.

McKeldin said he understood new voter registrations in Baltimore are 10-1 Democratic, while the normal ratio is 3-1.

In Harvey, Ill., the Rev. Wilbur N. Daniel, Negro candidate for Congress on Chicago's South Side, said he would not support Goldwater.

In Seattle, Lou Kessler, former chief parole and probation officer for the state of Washington, filed as a candidate for governor opposing two GOP candidates he said had tied themselves to Goldwater's coattails.

Local Areas Are Expanded to Make Toll-Free Calls
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission today authorized the New York Telephone Co. to expand the areas in New Paltz, Clintonville and Cleveland in which subscribers can make toll-free phone calls.

At the same time, the commission also authorized the company to establish uniform locality rate areas beyond the New Paltz, Clintonville and Cleveland exchanges.

Locality rates apply on an average basis to a given area. The changes will result in reduced monthly bills for most of the subscribers affected. The total reduction will be about $13,440, the company says.

The New Paltz exchange serves about 4,070 stations in and near New Paltz and Gardiner, Ulster County. The Clintonville exchange serves about 1,650 stations in and near Clintonville, Ardenia and Modena in Ulster County. The Cleveland exchange serves about 750 stations in portions of Oneida and Oswego Counties in and near Cleveland, Gernhards Bay and Jewell.

CORE President Denies Charge Of Infiltration
Denial was made today that any Woodstock group is trying to “infiltrate” the Ulster County Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality.

The new president of the chapter, Miss Jennifer Miller of Jansen Avenue, a student at Ulster County Community College, called at the Freeman today to refute a statement published yesterday, made by Mrs. Leonard Van Dyke, wife of Alderman Van Dyke (D) of the Sixth Ward. Mrs. Van Dyke one of the original founders here charged that the chapter was “split” and was being taken over.

60 Attend Meeting on Landfill In 5th Ward, Data Given Today
Some 60 parents and alumnae met at St. Ursula's Academy Tuesday evening to hear Roland Augustine, chairman of the meeting, summarize facts about the proposed city dump to be located in the Kingston Point lagoon in the vicinity of the academy.

Chairman Augustine said a list of some 30 questions would be submitted to the city administration relative to the proposed landfill dump.

He said since Mayor John J. Schwenk or no member of his staff was able to accept the invitation which had been extended, the questions had remained unanswered.

Chairman Augustine stated that the proposed area was tidal water and would be affected by the action of tides.

Other objections were the odor which would accompany the dump, rats and vermin.

It is maintained that if dumping was started in one area the distance from the school could be 2,500 feet or if started in another area it could be 1,000 feet or even 300 feet.

The proposed questions will be submitted to the Fifth Ward Community Association Committee meeting tonight for its consideration and will also be submitted to Mayor Schwenk.

Members of the Parent's Association have volunteered to contribute toward the Fifth Ward Community Association's legal fund. St. Ursula's Alumnae has already pledged a contribution.

Mayor Schwenk today, quoting from a preliminary report from Prude Consultants, Inc., said that report indicated that the cost per ton for land fill was from 50 cents to $1.25 while the cost of incineration, according to the report might vary from $6 to $7.50 a ton.

Present cost of refuse collection now is approximately $90,000, Mayor Schwenk said, and based (Continued on Page 10, Col. 1)

Violence Flares in Brooklyn Relatively Calm, Report in Harlem

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI is probing possible Communist influence in the city's racial violence, which continued throughout the night in Brooklyn's Negro section and resulted in the critical wounding of two Negroes by police.

Acting Mayor Paul R. Sorensen said the Harlem disorders had been incited in part by “fringe groups, including the Communist party.”

Would Check Money Source
He suggested that the FBI agents might investigate the source of money for some street rallies and for some of the “very inflammatory...anti-American...and seditious statements.”

The FBI investigation began on orders from President Johnson.

Meanwhile, Harlem, where rioting started Saturday night following protest rallies over the fatal shooting of a Negro boy by an off-duty police officer, was relatively quiet Tuesday night.

In Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, police fired at looters. Dozens of store windows were broken.

About two dozen persons were arrested.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner cut short a European vacation because of the violence.

Wagner said he would look into the report of Communist influence. He said he did not believe federal troops or the National Guard would be needed to preserve order.

No Large Crowds
Police reported a number of the burglaries in Harlem, the big Negro neighborhood in Manhattan. A few shots were fired by police to disperse unruly gatherings. But there were no large crowds, demonstrations or anything like the weekend rioting in which one man was killed and more than 100 injured.

In Brooklyn, the trouble started after a Black Nationalist street rally that drew about 500 Negroes. Firecrackers exploded in the crowd and many people scattered in panic.

More than 200 police moved in to quell the disturbance. They fired more than 150 shots in the air. Bottles were thrown. Store windows were broken. Subways were ordered to skip the Franklin and Nostrand street stops for a time.

The crowd broke up after an hour or two and police began getting reports of looting throughout the section.

About 24 Negroes were taken into custody.

Police Are Cursed
Small crowds gathered at stores where burglar alarms rang in the night. They cursed police whenever patrolmen appeared.

At police headquarters in Manhattan about 250 white teenagers hurled rotten eggs at 16 members of the Congress of Racial Equality, who were picketing Tuesday night against what they called police brutality.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm, who was talking to reporters when the barrage started, ran to escape it, but was hit on the leg.

The teen-agers, who live near the headquarters, shouted “Go back to Harlem” and “Communists” at the pickets.

Girl With Polio Is Reported by Health Director

A suspected case of polio involving a teenage girl in the Kingston area is now under observation, Dr. Theodore S. Drachman, county health commissioner, announced today, and he advised that persons, who have not recently enough been given “a booster” as a protection against the disease to consult their physicians.

His announcement, he said, was mainly to inform the public of the suspected case and provided opportunity to take protective action, and was not intended to spread alarm. The girl is under observation at a hospital.

Pathologists Accredited Kingston Lab

Mayor John J. Schwenk and Dr. Dow S. Myers, chairman of the Board of Managers of the City of Kingston Laboratory, today announced that the laboratory has been accredited by the College of American Pathologists.

A report after inspection listed the laboratory as “among the best managed.” It is the third in the state so accredited and among the first in the nation certified by the College.

Laboratory facilities at the Kingston and Benedictine hospitals and at the Laboratory Building were recently inspected by Dr. George K. Higgins, of the Board of Governors of the College of American Pathologists.

The inspection was broken down into several categories, which included personnel, equipment, library facilities, technical procedure manuals, space and arrangement, use of reference laboratories, record keeping, and efficiency of service.

Among Best Managed
Dr. Higgins' report to the Accreditation Commission of the College of American Pathologists said: “I spent most of the day at the City of Kingston Laboratory. . . I found that this laboratory to be among the best managed that I have ever seen. The standards are of the highest possible and many of the innovations instituted by the director, Dr. Herbert Derman, I intend to use in my own laboratory.”

Two things he especially found were:

1. The formation of a separate pathology department.

2. The formation of a separate pathology department.

U.S. Car Attacked
During Tuesday night's fighting rioters attacked a U.S. consulate car in which Charles J. Rogers of Santa Cruz, Calif., a diplomatic courier, was riding with a Malay driver.

Rogers said the mob, which he believed was composed mainly of Chinese, smashed the car's windows and headlights with clubs and bottles. The Malay driver was cut by flying glass.

Blame Infiltration
In Miami, organizers of the march charged that “Castro people” infiltrated their ranks and were responsible for the trouble.

The parade had been organized to march from the Washington Monument to the Lincoln Memorial and back to support the cause of sanctions against Cuba. Some insisted on going on toward the meeting site.

Mounted policemen rode slowly into the crowd, forcing those in front back against others following. Many fell to the ground in the crush.

Aided by leaders of the march, police soon restored order and the crowds melted away.

Signs Against Russia
Most of the demonstrators had appeared in a happy mood as they carried signs “Cuba si, Russia no,” and “We save Cuba or we lose America.” They had gathered here from Miami, New York, Baltimore and other East Coast cities as well as from Chicago.

Venezuela is pressing the Organization of American States for complete sanctions against Cuba under the 1947 Inter-American Treaty. An OAS investigating committee has supported Venezuela's charge that Castro agents planted a three-ton cache of arms in Venezuela to supply pro-Communist guerrillas.

Curfew Restores Singapore Calm, 8 Die in Riots
SINGAPORE (AP)—A daytime curfew enforced by more than 6,000 troops and police restored quiet today to Singapore Island after racial riots between Malays and Chinese in which 8 persons were killed and 341 injured.

400 Police in Action
More than 400 metropolitan and park policemen, some on horseback and motorcycles, helped quell the disturbance which broke out when some of the marchers insisted on leaving the parade route to head to the Pan American Union building where the foreign ministers are meeting.

Two Cubans and a park policeman received hospital treatment and about 45 other Cubans were treated for cuts, bruises, exhaustion and heat prostration.

Three men and one woman, arrested on disorderly conduct charges, were released after posting collateral.

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — "Anything you can do, I can do better," 64-year-old schoolmaster Freddie van Zyl told his son. Now Freddie has made his first parachute jump to prove it. His son, Dr. Pierre van Zyl, is a member of the Pretoria Sky-diving Club.

Said van Zyl afterwards: "I wanted to prove that anything my son can do, I can do — perhaps even better. It's been a great challenge to me."

Friends and relatives gathered at the airport to watch his first sky-diving attempt. He baled out at 2,500 feet. There was a loud cheer as the parachute billowed and mushroomed above him.

Nobody was more relieved than his wife when he made a perfect touchdown. She had not been happy about his making the jump. "After all," she said, "I've got only one husband."

White House Not Reversing AF on ROAMA Closing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has declined to reverse and Air Force decision to close the Rome, N.Y., Air Materiel Area and move its personnel elsewhere.

A letter from White House aide Lawrence O'Brien yesterday said the position taken by Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert "reflects the position of the administration."

Rep. Alexander Pirnie, R-N.Y., who received the letter, said he was disappointed that President Johnson did not reverse the decision personally.

Pirnie said Johnson would have been concerned by a General Accounting Office report that indicates the Air Force overestimated the amount of savings that would result from the move.

Pirnie said he would continue to fight the Air Force decision. Most of the center's work is being transferred to Oklahoma City and Sacramento, Calif.

This Is Living, Cats

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Two aging cats are living a life of ease in a $35,000 home, their future secure.

They were assured of the continuing income from a $435,000 trust when the will of the late Dr. William W. Grier was given final approval in San Diego Superior Court Tuesday.

The cats are Brownie, 15 years old, and Helicat, 14. Dr. Grier who died June 2, 1963, named four cats as heirs in his will, but two died before he did.

Mrs. Avila Horn who is taking care of Brownie and Helicat, said they eat the best, but it only costs about $10 a week.

Report Barry Threats

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Two threats against the life of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, were reported here Tuesday.

A switchboard operator at an automobile dealership said she received the calls Tuesday morning. The second came as police were being told of the first.

Dallas Police Chief Jesse Curry said he had alerted Washington, D.C. police to the calls.

Repair Underway Of Gas, Water Pipeline Breaks

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP) — Work crews labored at two nearby locations today to repair breaks in gas and water pipelines stemming from construction of a propane gas pipeline.

At West Oneonta, about six miles from here, a tractor Tuesday accidentally punctured a natural gas line owned by the New York Electric and Gas Co. State Police and Schoharie County sheriff's men sealed off the area while repair crews sought to block the gas leakage.

An official of the construction firm handling the job said he hoped to have the break sealed today.

In nearby Gilbertsville, Otsego County, Town Supervisor A. B. Musson said Tuesday night a construction crew accidentally cracked a village water line. The State Health Department directed residents of the village of 3,284 to boil their water until the break is repaired because of the danger of contamination.

Musson said he expected the water line break would be repaired within two days.

Saugerties

Fish, Game Club To Meet Monday

Two important decisions will have to be made at the Monday 8 p. m. meeting of Saugerties Fish and Game Club at R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms of the Municipal Building.

A change in the by-laws to lower the quorum requirements from 11 to 7 members will be discussed due to the lack of interest in meetings during the summer months.

Also, the monthly news letter sent to all members may be discontinued due to the cost and poor response to meetings promoted by the letter.

Robert Schiavone, president, said in this week's letter, it will be hard to justify the cost of the monthly letter unless there is a sizeable turnout at the meeting Monday night.

K of C Picnic Slated on Aug. 2

Saugerties Council 4536, Knights of Columbus will hold its annual picnic for Knights and their families Sunday, Aug. 2 starting at 1 p. m. at the Three R's picnic grove on Old Kings Highway near the Ruby Bridge.

The menu will feature barbecued chicken and corn-on-the-cob. Deadline for ticket reservation is July 31.

Tickets are available at Michael's barber shop, Curry's Service Station, Mike's Diner, or from Chairman Philip Sweeney.

Congregational Church Sets Semi-Annual Meet

The semi-annual meeting of First Congregational Church, Main Street, Saugerties will be held Thursday, Aug. 6 at 7:30 p. m. in the church school room.

The Rev. Frederick J. Imhoff, pastor announced that a very important part of the meeting will be the presentation of a progress report on the work project of the church.

Men of the congregation have been working on the new addition each Wednesday evening. Interior work has been accomplished and exterior wall painted.

Sunday school is in summer recess and worship services on summer schedule at 10 a. m.

Carvell to Head Enlarged Valley Oil Heat Council

William F. Carvell, president of Ballard Oil Co., Inc., of Kingston, has been elected to head the newly enlarged Hudson Valley Oil Heat Council, Inc.

The election took place at the organizational meeting recently at the Poughkeepsie Inn. The new officers take office Dec. 1, when the merger of fuel oil dealer groups in Ulster and Dutchess Counties takes effect.

Amos R. Newcombe of Kingston was elected treasurer. Other officers are Charles Russell, vice president and Don Love, secretary, both of Dutchess County.

Elected as directors were James Efron, Richmond Meyers, Joseph Colucci, Thomas Stark and William Jansen, all of Dutchess County; Lloyd Newcombe, Catskill; Arthur Reid, Kingston and Robert Reid, New Paltz, Ulster County. Mr. Reid is the incumbent president of the Hudson Valley Oil Heat Council, Inc., which prior to the merger action with Dutchess County, concentrated its membership and activities principally in Ulster County. Carvell presently is secretary and Amos Newcombe, treasurer.

Says Plane Came In With Low Wing

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Navy says a twin-engine patrol plane that crashed and burned on landing in a rainstorm Tuesday came in with one wing low.

Cmdr. Fred Moyers, safety officer, said the P2V Neptune made a hard landing and that when it touched down the right wing was torn away. Six of the 10 crewmen aboard the anti-submarine craft were hospitalized with burns.

Among the injured was H. Samuel J. Greenberg, 27, the pilot, of Lyons, N.Y.

Moyers said visibility was less than half a mile when the plane landed. It skidded about 1,500 feet down the runway. Its gasoline tanks ruptured and caught fire.

The crew members got out before crash crews arrived and the fire was under control in about an hour.

Free World consumption of nickel in 1963 reached a high of 523 million pounds.

Both McCormack, Joe Martin Face Seat Challenges

BOSTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., who is 72, and former Speaker Joseph W. Martin, R-Mass., who will be 80 in November, face re-election challenges.

Noel A. Day, a Negro civil rights leader, filed Tuesday as an independent candidate for McCormack's seat, and said he was challenging "the entrenched political power in Congress for its failure to deal creatively with the problems of poverty."

Former State Rep. William F. Nourse of Medfield, seeking to wrest the Republican nomination from Martin, said the "time requires a more energetic course than a 79-year-old political veteran can follow."

McCormack, next in line for the presidency, is completing his 19th consecutive term. Martin has represented his district for 20 consecutive terms since 1925.

GOLDWATER APPEAL

One of the imponderables of 1964 is just how deep and widespread is Barry Goldwater's support around the nation.

Though his opponents certainly no longer dismiss him as merely the darling of a small, radical right-wing fringe element, many cannot bring themselves to believe that Goldwater has any real appeal to the mass of voters clustered around the center.

It is obvious, of course, that he has appeal to those right of center. Just how many of them there are only the vote count on the evening of November 3 will tell.

But it may be that there are more of them than is generally believed and that the political center—the point supposedly dividing "liberals" from "conservatives"—is not where it is thought to be at all.

In his "The Conscience of a Conservative," Goldwater summed up his basic philosophy of government:

"I have little interest in streamlining government or in making it more efficient, for I mean to reduce its size. I do not undertake to promote welfare, for I propose to extend freedom. My aim is not to pass laws, but to repeal them. It is not to inaugurate new programs, but to cancel old ones that do violence to the Constitution."

Should Goldwater be elected and live up to those words, there would be great changes in the entire government.

But it is paradoxical that those who have rallied behind Goldwater thus far are not the poor and dispossessed of this country, the least free, those one would think should be most dissatisfied, those who usually conduct revolutions. Nor are they the very rich.

Rather, they are the well-to-do, middle-class, successful. They are those who have prospered most under the American system.

Yet, despite this prospering, many of them seem to be possessed by a great sense of frustration, the feeling that they and the nation have been pushed around and taken for a ride for the past 30 years and that the time has come to call a halt. They claim they have been deprived of certain unspecified rights and intend to take them back.

One possible explanation for this anomaly hinges on the statistical fact that 82 per cent of today's 192 million Americans either were not born or were under 21 when the stock market crashed in 1929.

Indeed, 68 per cent were either not born or were under 21 in 1941, when one out of every 10 workers in America was looking for a job.

Sixty-three per cent were either unborn or under 21 in 1945 when World War II ended.

Thus, it has been argued, there are a significant number of voters who have never known anything but good times, who never experienced depression, mass unemployment or global war, who have heard all their lives about "government interference" but did not live through the terrible events that led to a break with 19th-century laissez-faire philosophy.

This is only a partial explanation, of course. A lot of oldsters like Barry, too.

A lot of other Americans will be interested in hearing, between now and November, Barry Goldwater and his supporters elaborate on just how the size of the government is to be reduced, what laws will be repealed, exactly what is meant by "freedom," and how this will substitute for welfare programs.

An effort to unionize White House groundskeepers is called off—presumably in response to a special state of the union message from the man inside.

It turns out that Castro's sister Juana has been giving tips to the CIA. So maybe now the Bay of Pigs fiasco can be blamed on feminine intuition.

"These Days"

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
LBJ'S OPTIONS FOR VEEP

The nomination of Bill Miller, a Catholic from New York State, for Vice President on the Republican ticket puts pressure on Lyndon Johnson to balance like with like, but it still leaves the Democrats with plenty of options. If they want to pick a Catholic for Vice President at their Atlantic City convention, they can choose from a panel that includes Senators Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, Mike Mansfield of Montana and Tom Dodd of Connecticut. In addition of this they have Bobby Kennedy and Peace Corps man Sargent Shriver.

My own feeling is that Gene McCarthy stands to benefit most from the Republican choice of Bill Miller. The reason is that if Johnson is compelled by campaign necessities to reject the claims of Senator Humphrey for second spot on the ticket he may think he has to do something to please "Humphrey country." Picking Gene McCarthy would not only be a gesture to Catholics, it would also be pleasing to Humphrey's own state of Minnesota. Furthermore, it would satisfy the adherents of Adlai Stevenson in the party. It was McCarthy who made the nominating speech for Stevenson four years ago.

After testing the temper of the Republican delegates from the southern states at San Francisco, it can't be said that Bobby Kennedy's chances for getting on the Johnson ticket are very good. The southern Republicans are praying, of course, that Bobby be set up as a target for them to shoot at. Johnson, being a consummate politician, must know that the Republican choice of Bill Miller for veep is, in certain aspects, just so much bait in a trap. And LBJ is not one to fall for a trick. If he does pick Bobby Kennedy for his running mate, it will be because he has decided to let southern states go in the effort to hold strategic big population centers in the North and East.

Strategies bearing on the Hubert Humphrey and southern questions to one side, the claims of Tom Dodd of Connecticut should be getting more consideration in Democratic ranks. Dodd is battling one thousand when it comes to foreign policy. It wasn't very long ago that Dodd was telling his fellow senators—and the nation as a whole—that the United States was pulling a big boner in lending prestige and money to the UN campaign to unseat Moise Tshombe in the Congo. President John F. Kennedy tattered for a moment in Dodd's direction, then decided to go along with the UN thesis that the Congo must be "unified" by carrying open war against Tshombe's Katanga province, which was described as "secessionist." Dodd, of course, knew that Tshombe had only become a secessionist with great reluctance. Tshombe had been for a Congo federation based roughly on the analogy of the American system.

Well, a year and a half of UN policy for the Congo has passed into history, and the Congolese have had to call upon the rejected Tshombe to essay the virtually impossible task of holding their country together.

Tom Dodd has claims to vindicated prophecy on every foreign policy issue which has engaged his attention. He told the world that Ghana was falling out of the western orbit in Africa long before the State Department saw it that way. He warned his fellow senators that Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan of British Guiana was a Castroite willing to accept help from Moscow when Britishers were saying that Jagan was, at worst, just a Tito. He opposed the "neutralization" of Laos, predicting that a tri-partite division of that country into rightist, neutral and leftist strips would result in a Communist stab at complete takeover.

Tom Dodd has always been a "Johnson man" in the Democratic Party. He risked his political neck for LBJ in Connecticut in 1960. Johnson is lucky to have a friend whose record for accurate assessment of foreign affairs realities is virtually without a blemish.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Nature Does Best Job
Healing Body's Wounds

"I dressed his wounds and God healed him." Thus spoke Ambroise Pare, a famous surgeon of the 16th century.

Whenever you have a wound, whether accidental or surgical, your chief concern and that of your doctor is that it heal as rapidly as possible and leave the smallest, least conspicuous scar possible. Given half a chance, nature does a pretty good job of this. After any wound there is an inflammatory or lag period in which the tissues nearest the wound pour out blood and lymph to form a clot and seal off the wound from outside irritants.

At this stage, two teams go to work. The white blood cells break down the dead tissue cells and eventually the clot itself so that they can be carried away by the circulating blood. They also help to combat any infectious germs that may have entered the wound.

Meanwhile the repair crew, consisting of the building materials in your blood, is busy producing scar tissue. The essential elements of this process are circulating proteins, carbohydrates and vitamins.

The inflammatory stage lasts about five days—longer if infection is present—but how long the entire healing process will take depends on many factors. Since there is little that can be done to speed healing, your doctor must rely on preventing those things that will delay the process. Vitamins A, B, C, and K all play an important part. If one or more of these is lacking healing is slowed.

Every effort must be made to keep infection out. This means removing any foreign body that might set up an inflammatory reaction including your own dead tissue. Authorities warn against pouring strong antiseptics into a wound because, even though they kill a few stray germs, they are likely to damage the normal tissues and add to your troubles. Gentle cleaning with warm water is the best first aid measure, then let your doctor put on the refining touches if the wound is severe.

Anything that interferes with the normal blood and lymph supply to the injured part, such as excessive swelling or too tight a bandage, will delay healing. Some diseases such as diabetes and anemia also interfere with prompt healing.

THOSE DOLLARS WORK

There is a mistaken notion about that the only way to make tax-cut dollars work to bolster the economy is to spend them. The fact is that putting this money into a savings account also provides a stimulus.

This is true because dollars placed in banks or savings institutions do not lie fallow. The institutions put them to work. The dollars are loaned to others—to a businessman who uses them in expanding his operations, or to individuals who buy or build something—or perhaps they are invested in new bond issues that are used to finance a city or corporation project.

The only way to keep your tax-cut dollars from stimulating the economy is to tuck them away where they're not earning interest. That is not good business for either you or the rest of society.

"Aren't You Glad We Don't Have to Go Through THAT?"

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (ONEA) — The United States and South Viet Nam have started a determined effort to seal off the Ho Chi Minh trails down which North Viet Nam's Red Ho sends military and political cadres, money, weapons and supplies south to the Viet Cong.

First steps have been highly successful. U. S. guerrilla fighters leading native tribesmen have conducted a series of ambushes that are beginning to bother the Reds.

In essence, the U. S. guerrilla troops and their tribesmen allies are using Red tactics. They patrol the forests alongside the Ho Chi Minh trails, hit North Vietnamese soldiers and supply teams coming down those forest tracks. They operate best at night.

THESE PRIMITIVE TRIBESMEN live along the South Viet Nam-Laos border. They know the area. They're ideal guerrilla fighters when given U. S. training and weapons. They form strong personal loyalties to individual U. S. fighting men.

The hill tribesmen, too, are vague on boundary lines. If they infiltrate into Laos and catch the Reds before they arrive in South Viet Nam, no one is the wiser.

This new border trail fighting is just getting into stride. It will be beefed up sharply in the next six to eight months.

One problem: U. S. guerrilla fighters must keep the hill men from different tribes in well-separated units. Some would rather fight each other than the Viet Cong.

This concept of a military alliance with native tribesmen is a type of operation at which U. S. soldiers have excelled for some time. Americans were highly successful with the Shan tribesmen in Burma in World War II. They organized hard-fighting groups of Meo tribesmen in Laos a few years back.

THE VIET CONG REDS are expected to react sharply. They must keep the Ho Chi Minh trails open.

The weapons and supplies coming down these paths probably account for less than 2 per cent of the tonnage the Viet Cong use in the south and for only a relatively small percentage of the fighting men.

But the men and supplies involved are critical items: radios, mortars, machine guns, specialist personnel, unit leaders, noncommissioned officers, medical supplies, campaign instructions and considerable sums of money.

Without the leaders, instructions and money, the systematic direction and co-ordination of Viet Cong operations would be much more difficult.

THE EXPANDING BORDER PATROL setup also serves another purpose. It gives fleeing Viet Cong fighters fewer places to hide. Secret of the success of the Red guerrillas is that when they're surprised by South Viet Nam troops they can flee, either into the hills or across the border into Laos or Cambodia.

When the guerrilla patrols become large enough and experienced enough, and when they expand far enough along the border, they may be able to cut off numbers of fleeing Viet Cong after major raids by government troops.

This will reduce the importance of the Cambodia sanctuary.

Equal opportunity and mutual respect are matters not only of the law, but also of the human heart and spirit, and the latter are not always amenable to law.

Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Tracing the Harlem Riots To Civil Rights Handling

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Race rioting and violence in the Harlem section of New York City—the biggest Negro community in the country — have occasioned nationwide dismay and a sense of tragic shame before the world.

For a long time people in the North have been pointing the finger of blame at the citizens of Mississippi and Alabama, and there has been many a comment that such disturbances present an unfavorable image abroad. Now, unfortunately, Northern states have experienced some serious outbreaks, too.

Coincidentally, the crime wave in the United States has been growing to unprecedented proportions, especially among the young people. Racial conflict, of course, affords an opportunity for irresponsible individuals to participate in any form of disorder.

Today's disturbances are, in large part due to the encouragement given in recent months to "street demonstrations." There are many people who do not understand that while the right of free speech is guaranteed, it does not permit anybody falsely to cry "Fire" in a crowded theater or to encourage mob violence while professing adherence to the doctrine of non-violence. Even clergymen have been guilty of endorsing what is called "civil disobedience."

The sensible leaders of the Negro organizations today are trying hard to control their members so as to keep down demonstrations that could lead to violence, but unfortunately there now is a race consciousness in the U. S. on the part of both whites and Negroes. It is the impulsive and impetuous handling of the whole "civil rights" issue that is in part responsible for the tension that exists.

Perhaps the most difficult phase of the whole problem is the situation which confronts the local police. If they do not arrest the demonstrators, lots of innocent persons are injured. But on the other hand, if the police try to use force to deal with those who are threatening violence, these same law officers are accused of "brutality."

Within the last few years, an impression has been conveyed that the Federal government must intervene to maintain law and order, especially when the states or cities seem reluctant to do so for fear of intensifying local feeling. President Eisenhower sent troops to Arkansas in 1957 presumably to enforce a court order and also to prevent an outbreak of violence. The late President Kennedy mobilized Federal troops in Mississippi in 1962 and in Alabama in 1963 because of a fear that violence might break out. Yet in all three cases the state governments had plenty of militia of their own available to take care of the respective situations.

President Johnson thus far has taken only one action on the Harlem riots—an order to the FBI to investigate whether any Federal laws have been broken.

There have been many instances in the past in which state militia have been used to supplement local police. The Governor of the state of New York has certain responsibilities in the event that violence breaks out again in New York City and the police are unable to control it. Negro organizations have this week petitioned the Governor to send troops to the metropolis.

There are plenty of laws and plenty of police—Federal, state and local—to maintain order in America. The handicaps to effective enforcement today, however, are many. The Federal judiciary, under the direction of the Supreme Court of the United States, has made it difficult to detect and punish offenders. Technicalities have been allowed to interfere with the operations of the police in interrogating persons accused of crime.

President Johnson and Sen. Goldwater have both indicated that during the campaign they would like to play down racial issues. But much of the damage has already been done. Passions have been inflamed, and there have been charges and countercharges that this or that group is responsible for inciting violence. Irrespective of what may have been said or done in the past, the problem now is how to secure observance of law and maintenance of order in the big cities of the North as well as in the South.

More and more police are going to be necessary, and while it may seem ironical even to imply that color lines should be drawn, many cities are discovering that only by the employment of numerous Negro policemen to go on constant duty in Negro sections of the big cities can the riots be controlled and further violence prevented. It is a sad story of racial consciousness that now has broken out in the open despite all the sincere efforts of many persons on both sides to debate the issue on its merits in the hope that reason and volition may be substituted for coercion.

More Confident About Ranger 7 Results on Moon

By RALPH DIGHTON
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Ranger 7 will carry more than cameras when it is launched at the moon next week: On it will be riding the hopes and perhaps the future of the men who made it.

After Ranger 6 hit the moon last February but failed for the fourth straight time to return close-up pictures of the lunar surface, scientists at its Jet Propulsion Laboratory birthplace came under severe criticism from the parent U.S. space agency and in Congress.

JPL operations since then have been overhauled and Ranger 7 has been subjected to minutely detailed tests.

Result: JPL chief William Pickering gives it a 50-50 chance, compared with the 1-in-4 chance given Ranger 6.

More Confident

"We are more confident about Ranger 7—we give it one chance in two—because we have one more shot behind us and some changes have been made to improve the reliability of the craft," Pickering said in an exclusive interview.

"I believe the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is now convinced that this is a complex and difficult job, but that we will be able to get pictures of the moon from at least one of the next three shots."

Last Launching in '64

Whether Ranger 7 succeeds or not, Pickering said, there will be no more launches this year due to other commitments at the Atlantic range.

"But we fully expect to fly two more Rangers early next year," he said. "Ranger 8 is already assembled and work has begun on Ranger 9."

On day Thursday some 300 scientists and engineers here will go through a full-dress simulation of the flight in the laboratory's new $14.6-million tracking center, which will control the spacecraft after launch. Working with them in the 12-hour drill, as they did in a similar rehearsal Monday, will be 500 technicians at tracking stations around the world plus another 100 at Cape Kennedy.

all precautions, Ranger 7 fails to send back pictures, scientists need to select a site for manned Apollo moonship landings later in this decade.

That's according to NASA's new deputy director, retired Gen. Alvin R. Lueddecke, who come here next month, reportedly as a condition for renewal next December of its contract with the laboratory.

Industry sources here expect Lueddecke to be ruthless if Ranger 7 fails.

Broadway Man Held On Driving Charges

Harold LaForge, 35, whose address was listed as Broadway, city, was charged with driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended and speeding 75 miles an hour, according to Kingston State Police.

LaForge was picked up this morning by police on his way to work. He was hounded the man, Trooper Robert Mackey said LaForge was driving a 1964 car valued at $3,000 and owned by John Markle, of 47 Prospect Street, New Paltz.

Troopers said additional charges involving the convertible will be filed against LaForge on Thursday.

Meanwhile, LaForge was committed to the Ulster County jail by Justice of the Peace S. Parks Glenn, Town of New Paltz, for hearing Thursday.

Fined on Three Charges

Charlotte Jansen, 23, of RD 1, Box 169-A, Kingston, booked on four vehicle and traffic charges several weeks ago, was fined on three counts in city court today. She was fined $15 for lack of registration, and $5 each for lack of inspection and driving a vehicle with unsafe tires. One charging lack of an operator's license was dismissed.

CHICHESTER—The Chichester Summer Colony has launched its 15th year of community activities. At its annual membership meeting, which was preceded by a community breakfast the Chichester Property Owners Association elected Nat Parmer, Alex Shames and Mack Zuckerman to fill executive board vacancies.

President Moe Sheinberg announced plans to further improve the Community House and recreational areas. Mrs. Ruth Herzog's house committee has already replaced children's play equipment and provided additional indoor lighting and furniture as well as a large parking area to help preserve lawns, volleyball court and swimming approach.

Lou Stein and Paul Levine organized the annual shuffleboard tournament which opened with full community participation on July 12.

The first of the season's community cookouts on July 4 brought out 35 families and guests and was followed by an evening of spirited folk-singing led by four of the community's talented young guitarists—Amy Hoffman, Melanie Kaye, Liz Kantor and Carl Shames. At the second cookout July 18 the popular Bernard Friedman called for an evening of folk, square and round dances which brought the entire community out on the dance floor with grandparents teaching their grandchildren how to do a "do-si-do."

On Monday, July 12, Mrs. Daisy Zajt and Mrs. Gert Levine arranged and cooked a gourmet supper and duplicate bridge game for over 40 members and guests.

Fund-raisers Helen Wolfgang and Edna Sheinberg held a successful two-day sale in Phoenixia.

Library Receives New Fiction Books

A review of the new fiction shelf at Kingston City Library reveals some novels too good to miss and perfect for long summer afternoons.

The Mindieberg Papers, by Jacob Hay, is a spoof about a New York public relations man who arrives in a small southern town to write its centennial history, only to discover that the Civil War really never ended at Appomattox.

The Uncle, by Margaret Abrams, is a story about Gus, who is 7 years old and who has a nephew his own age. This fresh and memorable novel is a child's appraisal of life.

An Honorable Estate, by Lane Kauffmann, is a tightly knit, well-written novel which covers only three months in a woman's life, from her family engagement part to her fashionable wedding.

A Fair Day's Work, by Nicolas Monsarrat, is a provocative novel of modern seafaring, by a master of sea stories, concerning a labor controversy. Stratagem follows stratagem as suspense mounts.

Street of Steps, by Yudit Handel, a young Israeli writer, is composed of a series of contrasts: old values and new, war and the natural beauty of Israel, Israel versus the Arab states. All this jells into a fascinating story of the problems of modern Israel.

The Little Girls, by Elizabeth Bowen, relates the story of three women who had not seen each other since they were school friends. Then one of them decided to call the others to account for a prank played 50 years before.

A Place of Stone, by Jim Hunter, tells about a family in a period of crisis and breakup. A painter, growing old in obscurity, discovers that his wife is dying and his children are approaching marriage.

Gregory the Great, by Gerhart Ellert, is a historical novel about St. Gregory the Great, who, on the ruins of the Roman Empire, built the foundations of the Christian West.

Love, Let Me Not Hunger, by Paul Gallico, is the saga of a little British traveling circus stranded in Spain.

These and many more books are now available at the library. The library is open Monday through Friday, from 10:30 to 8:30, and Saturday, 1 to 5.

Hearings Adjourned

Two residents of 210 O'Neil Street lodged third degree assault charges against each other Tuesday night. They are Florence Price, 63, and Charlene K. Donaldson, 36. Police said the arrest followed a dispute involving a son of Mrs. Donaldson, Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr. today adjourned hearing until Friday. They were released in their own recognizance.

More Confident About Ranger 7 Results on Moon

By RALPH DIGHTON
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Ranger 7 will carry more than cameras when it is launched at the moon next week: On it will be riding the hopes and perhaps the future of the men who made it.

After Ranger 6 hit the moon last February but failed for the fourth straight time to return close-up pictures of the lunar surface, scientists at its Jet Propulsion Laboratory birthplace came under severe criticism from the parent U.S. space agency and in Congress.

JPL operations since then have been overhauled and Ranger 7 has been subjected to minutely detailed tests.

Result: JPL chief William Pickering gives it a 50-50 chance, compared with the 1-in-4 chance given Ranger 6.

More Confident
"We are more confident about Ranger 7—we give it one chance in two—because we have one more shot behind us and some changes have been made to improve the reliability of the craft," Pickering said in an exclusive interview.

"I believe the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is now convinced that this is a complex and difficult job, but that we will be able to get pictures of the moon from at least one of the next three shots."

Last Launching in '64
Whether Ranger 7 succeeds or not, Pickering said, there will be no more launchings this year due to other commitments at the Atlantic range.

"But we fully expect to fly two more Rangers early next year," he said. "Ranger 8 is already assembled and work has begun on Ranger 9."

1 day Thursday some 300 scientists and engineers here will go through a full-dress simulation of the flight in the laboratory's new $14.6-million tracking center, which will control the spacecraft after launch.

Working with them in the 12-hour drill, as they did in a similar rehearsal Monday, will be 500 technicians at tracking stations around the world plus another 100 at Cape Kennedy.

all precautions, Ranger 7 fails to send back pictures... need to select a site for manned Apollo moonship landings later in this decade?

That's... NASA has ordered a new deputy director, retired... Gen. Alvin R. Lueddecke, to come here next month, reportedly as a condition for renewal next December of its contract with the laboratory.

Industry sources here expect Lueddecke to be ruthless if Ranger 7 fails.

Broadway Man Held On Driving Charges

Harold LaForge, 35, whose address was listed as Broadway, city, was charged with driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended and speeding 75 miles an hour, according to Kingston State Police.

LaForge was picked up this morning... L. M. Luongo, who was on his way to...

handed the man, Trooper Robert Mackey said LaForge was driving a 1964 car valued at $3,000 and owned by John Markle, of 47 Prospect Street, New Paltz.

Troopers said additional charges involving the convertible will be filed against LaForge on Thursday.

Meanwhile, LaForge was committed to the Ulster County Jail by Justice of the Peace S. Parks Glenn, Town of New Paltz, for hearing Thursday.

Fined on Three Charges

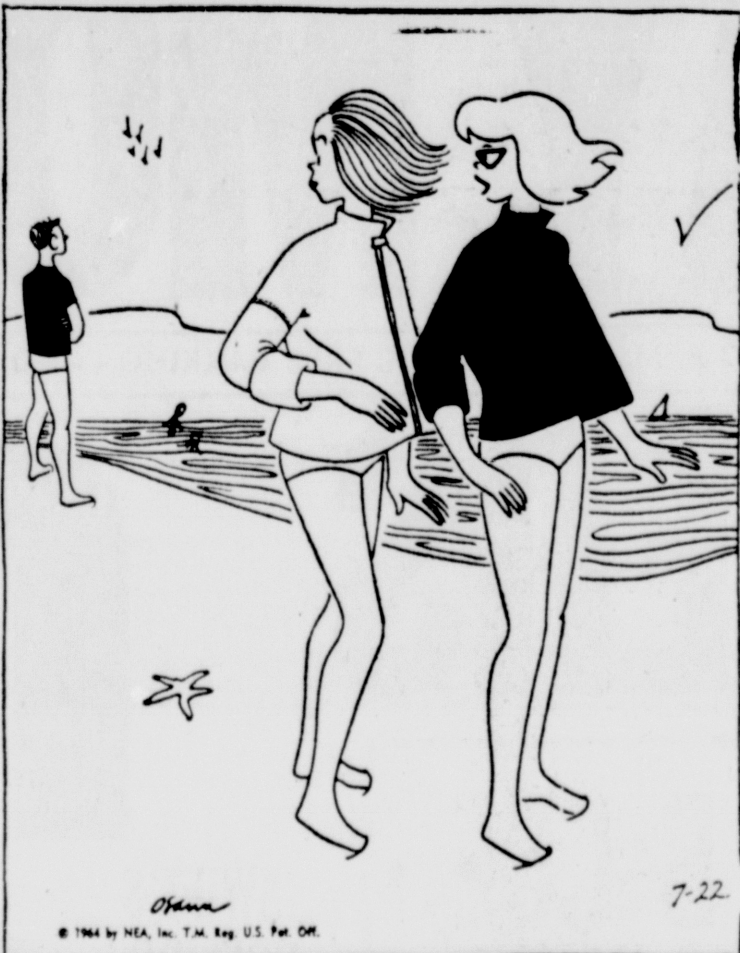

Charlotte Jansen, 23, of RD 1, Box 169-A, Kingston, booked on four vehicle and traffic charges several weeks ago, was fined on three counts in city court today. She was fined $15 for lack of registration, and $5 each for lack of inspection and driving a vehicle with unsafe tires. One charging lack of an operator's license was dismissed.

President Moe Sheinberg announced plans to further improve the Community House and recreational areas. Mrs. Ruth Herzog's house committee has already replaced children's play equipment and provided additional indoor lighting and furniture as well as a large parking area to help preserve lawns, volleyball court and swimming approach.

At the second cookout July 18 the popular Bernard Friedman called for an evening of folk, square and round dances which brought the entire community out on the dance floor with grandparents teaching their grandchildren how to do a "do-si-do."

On Monday, July 12, Mrs. Daisy Zajt and Mrs. Gert Levine arranged and cooked a gourmet supper and duplicate bridge game for over 40 members and guests.

Fund-raisers Helen Wolfgang and Edna Sheinberg held a successful two-day sale in Phoenixia.

Treasurers Bertha Shapiro and Leo Robbins reported annual contributions to the local fire department, Chamber of Commerce (for the tennis courts), Ontario Scholarship Fund, the Phoenixia Library Fund and the Nellie Shultis Memorial Fund at the Library.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Block and daughter Debbie Susan of Norman, Okla., are spending time with Mr. and Mrs. David Kreissman.

Library Receives New Fiction Books

A review of the new fiction shelf at Kingston City Library reveals some novels too good to miss and perfect for long summer afternoons.

The Mindberg Papers, by Jacob Hay, is a spoof about a New York public relations man who arrives in a small southern town to write its centennial history, only to discover that the Civil War really never ended at Appomattox.

The Uncle, by Margaret Abrams, is a story about Gus, who is 7 years old and who has a nephew his own age. This fresh and memorable novel is a child's appraisal of life.

An Honorable Estate, by Lane Kauffmann, is a tightly knit, well-written novel which covers only three months in a woman's life, from her family engagement part to her fashionable wedding.

A Fair Day's Work, by Nicolas Monsarrat, is a provocative novel of modern seafaring, by a master of sea stories, concerning a labor controversy. Stratagem follows stratagem as suspense mounts.

Street of Steps, by Yudit Handel, a young Israeli writer, is composed of a series of contrasts: old values and new, war and the natural beauty of Israel, Israel versus the Arab states. All this jells into a fascinating story of the problems of modern Israel.

The Little Girls, by Elizabeth Bowen, relates the story of three women who had not seen each other since they were school friends. Then one of them decided to call the others to account for a prank played 50 years before.

A Place of Stone, by Jim Hunter, tells about a family in a period of crisis and breakup. A painter, growing old in obscurity, discovers that his wife is dying and his children are approaching marriage.

Gregory the Great, by Gerhart Ellert, is a historical novel about St. Gregory the Great, who, on the ruins of the Roman Empire, built the foundations of the Christian West.

Love, Let Me Not Hunger, by Paul Gallico, is the saga of a little British traveling circus stranded in Spain.

These and many more books are now available at the library. The library is open Monday through Friday, from 10:30 to 8:30, and Saturday, 1 to 5.

Hearings Adjourned

Two residents of 210 O'Neill Street lodged third degree assault charges against each other Tuesday night. They are Florence Price, 63, and Charlene K. Donaldson, 36. Police said the arrest followed a dispute involving a son of Mrs. Donaldson, Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr. today adjourned hearing until Friday. They were released in their own recognizance.

Producer of TV Doctors Explains Novel Approach

EDITOR'S NOTE—Jerry Layton, producer of NBC's "The Doctors," takes us inside the wonderful world of the daytime television serial—they often are called soap operas—and shows us the complicated machinery that makes them work.

By JERRY LAYTON
For Cynthia Lowry

NEW YORK (AP)—Not long ago if a daytime serial actor found that he was required to say, "George, I can't seem to shake this cold," he immediately called his agent. "Al, they're giving me the pneumonia treatment. Better line up some auditions. I'd say the funeral's set for two months."

He knew his part was soon to be written out of the show. But with this formula being done to "death," so did the viewers.

Those were the days when you could go away on summer vacation and on your return find this guy still trying to shake that cold.

Tastes Change

Those were the days, too, when the dialogue covered what happened yesterday, what might happen tomorrow, but with little or no action to show that anything was happening today.

I believe today's daytime television drama is a far cry from yesterday's soap operas. Tastes continually change in the theater, in motion pictures, in nighttime television—and in daytime television. No television chef today should rely on somebody else's old recipe.

What do we do on "The Doctors" in place of the "pneumonia treatment"? We don't just kill him off. We introduce a new character to strengthen the dramatic balance. We overlap the two and then let the newer one take over in importance.

Only one of our original four leads is in "The Doctors" after almost two years. We found that our viewers preferred a man of definite authority as the hero. So we introduced a chief of staff.

Originally we presented a new half-hour drama every day. We found that viewers wanted to know more about our leads, so we expanded to a full-length story every week. As our audience became more personally involved with the cast, we even lifted the five-days-per-story restriction to make continuing drama, in fact, a television novel.

Viewers Not Different

Some specialists are prone to put the daytime television viewers under a microscope and come up with the pronouncement: "Daytime viewers are completely different from nighttime viewers." Not so.

People are people. The housewife who watches "The Doctors" in the afternoon is the same person who at night views "Bonanza," Ed Sullivan, and Walt Disney's programs. That's why there are so many former nighttime programs now being rerun in the daytime. And they'd be flops if daytime audiences were "different."

Nine Overcome Repairing Furnace At Plant in Troy

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—Nine men—one of them in poor condition—remained in St. Mary's Hospital today after being overcome by coke gas fumes that also felled 19 other workers repairing a blast furnace at the Republic Steel Corp. plant here.

Most seriously afflicted by the fumes was Ernest Lederhouse, 49, of Williamsville, near Buffalo.

Eight others admitted to the hospital with him were described as fair to satisfactory. The rest were treated and discharged.

The men overcome by the fumes Tuesday were among 40 employees of the A. E. Anderson Construction Co. of Buffalo, performing the repair work for Republic. Most of the men are Troy area residents.

Plant officials said fumes apparently collected in the 160-foot-deep furnace after its fire—thought to be extinguished—flared to life Monday night and died again. When the work party descended 40 feet into the furnace on a scaffold, some of the men collapsed. Others who went to their aid also were overcome.

Born to Audience

NEW YORK (AP)—About 200 persons watched as the first baby was born at the World's Fair. And it was a 65-pound baby at that. Sally, a Hereford cow, gave birth to a calf in the Montana Pavilion.

Shepards Flying To Ohio Today

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Sam Sheppard's freedom was at stake today at a hearing by the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The three-judge panel will hear arguments on a stay order that followed the convicted wife slayer's release from prison last Thursday on a writ of habeas corpus.

Since his release, the 40-year-old former Bay Village osteopath has married German divorcee Ariane Tebbenjohanns in Chicago and visited New York City.

Sheppard, his wife, and attorney F. Lee Bailey were to fly to Cleveland this morning from New York. Sheppard and Bailey were to appear at the hearing. Mrs. Sheppard planned to accompany them to Akron.

Onteora Education Board Reduces Budget $89,417

As a result of several workshop sessions and special board meetings, the Onteora Board of Education has reduced its 1964-65 proposed budget by $89,417. A public hearing has been set for August 4 at 8 p. m. in the high school building to give the general public an opportunity to review the proposed budget. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board will make a final decision on the amount of money to be proposed for voter approval on August 12.

The fiscal year of the school district began on July 1st. Inasmuch as no budget was available for operation at that time, all expenditures for normal preparations for the coming school year were halted. Such items as textbooks, classroom supplies, and other essential teaching materials could not be ordered. At a special meeting on July 13, the Board of Education adopted a "contingency" budget which will provide for minimum operational costs during the coming school year unless the "reduced" budget is adopted by the voters on August 12. The Board of Education is severely restricted by State Law provided certain services under a "contingency" budget. The major items which cannot be provided next year without voter approval on August 12 are as follows: cafeteria, salary increases for non-teaching employees, expenses for teacher's workshops, all interscholastic athletics for boys and girls, the cost of new textbooks, the cost of classroom supplies for pupils, board subsidy of rental for musical instruments, painting of rooms, new equipment for classrooms except that required as a result of an increase in enrollment or new construction, equipment for interscholastic athletics, new library books, transportation under two miles for elementary children and under three miles for high school pupils, field trips for pupils.

The board further states that a close examination of the budget shows that the major budget items responsible for the increase are due to the operation of three new elementary buildings to eliminate half-day sessions. The amount attributed to the opening of these new buildings is $221,505. This amount includes the money to operate and maintain 37 new classrooms. It consists of salaries for new personnel, cost of fuel, electricity, cleaning supplies, telephone service, fire and liability insurance, redemption of bonds (principal and interest on new buildings) and new library books. The major item in this category is an increase of $136,279 which represents the "mortgage payments" for the new buildings.

In spite of the Board of Education's desire to keep educational costs to a minimum, it is faced with certain cold facts. The enrollment of the school district will increase in the coming year by about 140 pupils. Costs of services and materials continue to mount in the general economy. The board has responded to the will of the people in terms of the demand for a large reduction in expenditure for the school district. It has had to weigh this demand against other demands for a good educational program and for services including transportation, cafeteria and others which are expected.

The "reduced" budget retains the services required to operate the district with a smaller burden on the local taxpayer.

Milk Aids Crackers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — It was a case of crackers and milk at an A & P supermarket, police said — safe crackers.

The thieves broke in, then used milk from the dairy case to cool the drill they used to cut holes in the back of the safe, investigators reported. They got $100.

Will Eliminate More Billboards On N.Y. Thruway

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Thruway Authority dispatched work crews today to eliminate 12 more billboards along the cross-state expressway on the ground the signs posed a traffic hazard and marred the road's scenic beauty.

Authority Chairman R. Burdell Bixby said he had directed maintenance crews to take down or paint out the signs after their owners or operators "ignored repeated requests to comply with state law."

Four of the signs are situated north of Suffern, two near Utica and one each near Fultonville, Herkimer, Syracuse, Geneva and Depew. The 12th one is just west of the Niagara spur connection at Buffalo.

Thruway crews previously removed eight billboards in April and May of 1962 and 53 in June 1963.

One of the billboards has its legend applied directly to the sign of a bar along the superhighway. The authority said the sign would be painted over.

marking the first time that a billboard had to be eliminated in this manner.

Usually the signs are taken down by cutting their supports and lowering them, face down, to the ground.

The agency said it would have to paint over another billboard because it was close to a sewage disposal plant that might be damaged if the device were cut down.

All the signs, the authority said, violate a state law that authorizes the agency to ban billboards within 660 feet of the right-of-way if considered undesirable. The law was upheld by the Court of Appeals, the state's highest tribunal, in 1961.

The authority said that it had approved about 65 per cent of all applications to put up billboards or signs within the 660-foot limit and that about 284 such devices now were being maintained legally within the corridor.

Bixby said the 12 signs he ordered removed today had the effect of distracting motorists' attention or destroyed the scenic beauty of the route.

Shepard's Flying To Ohio Today

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Sam Sheppard's freedom was at stake today at a hearing by the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The three-judge panel will hear arguments on a stay order that followed the convicted wife slayer's release from prison last Thursday on a writ of habeas corpus.

Since his release, the 40-year-old former Bay Village osteopath has married German divorcee Ariane Tebbenjohanns in Chicago and visited New York City.

Sheppard, his wife, and attorney E. Lee Bailey were to fly to Cleveland this morning from New York. Sheppard and Bailey were to appear at the hearing. Mrs. Sheppard planned to accompany them to Akron.

Onteora Education Board Reduces Budget $89,417

As a result of several workshop sessions and special board meetings, the Onteora Board of Education has reduced its 1964-65 proposed budget by $89,417. A public hearing has been set for August 4 at 8 p. m. in the high school building to give the general public an opportunity to review the proposed budget. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board will make a final decision on the amount of money to be proposed for voter approval on August 12.

The fiscal year of the school district began on July 1st. Inasmuch as no budget was available for operation at that time, all expenditures for normal pool year were halted. Such items as textbooks, classroom supplies, and other essential teaching materials could not be ordered.

At a special meeting on July 13, the Board of Education adopted a "contingency" budget which will provide for minimum operational costs during the coming school year unless the "reduced" budget is adopted by the voters on August 12. The Board of Education is severely restricted by State Law provided certain services under a "contingency" budget. The major items which cannot be provided next year without voter approval on August 12 are as follows: cafeteria, salary increases for non-teaching employees, expenses for teacher's workshops, all interscholastic athletics for boys and girls, the cost of new textbooks, the cost of classroom supplies for pupils, board subsidy of rental for musical instruments, painting of rooms, new equipment for classrooms except that required as a result of an increase in enrollment or new construction, equipment for interscholastic athletics, new library books, transportation under two miles for elementary children and under three miles for high school pupils, field trips for pupils.

The board further states that a close examination of the budget items shows that the major budget items responsible for the increase are due to the operation of three new elementary buildings to eliminate half-day sessions. The amount attributed to the opening of these new buildings is $221,505. This amount includes the money to operate and maintain 37 new classrooms. It consists of salaries for new personnel, cost of fuel, electricity, cleaning supplies, telephone service, fire and liability insurance, redemption of bonds (principal and interest on new buildings) and new library books. The major item in this category is an increase of $136,279 which represents the "mortgage payments" for the new buildings.

In spite of the Board of Education's desire to keep educational costs to a minimum, it is faced with certain cold facts. The enrollment of the school district will increase in the coming year by about 140 pupils. Costs of services and materials continue to mount in the general economy. The board has responded to the will of the people in terms of the demand for a large reduction in expenditure for the school district. It has had to weigh this demand against other demands for a good educational program and for services including transportation, cafeteria and others which are expected.

The "reduced" budget retains the services required to operate the district with a smaller burden on the local taxpayer.

Mahoney Feels Future to Bring Barry Support

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney says he is confident that "all Republicans will be able to support the Goldwater - Miller ticket as the campaign unfolds."

Mahoney, generally regarded as a conservative, commented Tuesday after U.S. Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating announced that they did not support Sen. Barry Goldwater "at this time."

Both the Republican senators implied they could change their minds, however.

Mahoney, ranking Republican in the State Senate, said he expected that all Republicans would support the national ticket "just as the late Sen. (Robert) Taft and Goldwater supported nominees in past years despite earlier differences."

As to suggestions that the state GOP draft a separate platform for the state campaign, Mahoney said it had been decided before the national convention that Republican legislators would run on their records.

A spokesman for Mahoney said that a legislative platform had been drafted in past elections and that this year's plan did not represent any change in policy.

on the figures of the Pride report incineration would cost six times or more present cost, or perhaps $500,000. This would mean a tax increase of around $10 per $1,000 of assessment.

Mayor Schwank also pointed out today that at present there was no "anticipation" of using the dump for garbage. He points out that the city has now a three year contract with a collector, two years of that contract remains.

Unless compelled by situations beyond the city's control, Mayor Schwank said it was not contemplated that the landfill dump would be used for garbage disposal. There was no telling about future developments, he said.

Mayor Schwank stated that arrangements had been made to have plenty of sand available for covering and that the whole operation would be subject to the regulations, control and supervision of the health authorities.

Damp Protocol

LONDON (AP)—The queen's garden party began at 4 p.m. The rain began at 5.

Most of the 7,000 guests at Buckingham Palace ignored the first trickle. But when it turned into a downpour, the rush for the gates became a torrent.

Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, Prince Philip, were unperturbed. Protocol demanded their presence until 6.

They strolled to the tea tent, and beneath its shelter carried on with the royal presentations.

Shoe Comfort

Your feet need special care during summer months. Select comfortable shoes—ones which do not rub toes or heels. They should give adequate support to the arches and cushion the balls of the feet.

Blind Veterans' $500 Annuity

Certain blind veterans are eligible for a $500 annuity, families and guardians of blind veterans were reminded today by Charles Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

"It is our State's contribution to those veterans who are so handicapped, by assisting them to lead lives of dignity, usefulness, and purposeful citizenship," they stated.

"To be eligible," Culver and Tyler continued, "a veteran must have served in the armed forces without dishonor during specified wartime periods, and must meet New York State's standard of blindness. They must also be on active duty for ninety days or more, unless discharged for a service connected disability, in less than ninety days. In addition, they must have been residents of New York State when they entered active duty in the United States military service, and continue to be residents. The continuous residence requirement is not applicable to annuitants whose claims were approved prior to June 1, 1958."

Families and guardians of blind veterans may secure complete information concerning their annuity by contacting their State Veterans Counselor, Charles Culver, or John Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 4 Hurley Avenue, Kingston. Summer office hours: 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. during July and August.

Three Feared Drowned

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A young girl and a policeman and college boy who tried to rescue her sank and were presumed drowned Tuesday in a 40-foot-deep mud hole gouged in a four-lane highway when a sewer line collapsed during a heavy thunderstorm.

More than 100 policemen, firemen and volunteer workers toiled through the night trying to recover bodies of the three and the car in which the girl had been riding. Their job was complicated when soil on the sides of the crater kept crumbling. A sheet-metal casing was constructed at the scene to be lowered into the hole by a crane.

Missing were Claudia Shidler, 10; Ronald D. Rotruck, 28, an Akron policeman for five years; and Hugh M. O'Neil, 19, a Georgetown University sophomore and summer employee at General Tire and Rubber Co. which was founded by his grandfather, William O'Neil.

Mahoney Feels Future to Bring Barry Support

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney says he is confident that "all Republicans will be able to support the Goldwater - Miller ticket as the campaign unfolds."

Mahoney, generally regarded as a conservative, commented Tuesday after U.S. Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating announced that they did not support Sen. Barry Goldwater "at this time."

Both the Republican senators implied they could change their minds, however.

Mahoney, ranking Republican in the State Senate, said he expected that all Republicans would support the national ticket "just as the late Sen. (Robert) Taft and Goldwater supported nominees in past years despite earlier differences."

As to suggestions that the state GOP draft a separate platform for the state campaign, Mahoney said it had been decided before the national convention that Republican legislators would run on their records.

A spokesman for Mahoney said that a legislative platform had been drafted in past elections and that this year's plan did not represent any change in policy.

on the figures of the Pride report incineration would cost six times or more present cost, or perhaps $500,000. This would mean a tax increase of around $10 per $1,000 of assessment.

Mayor Schwenk also pointed out today that at present there was no "anticipation" of using the dump for garbage. He points out that the city has now a three year contract with a collector, two years of that contract remains.

Unless compelled by situations beyond the city's control, Mayor Schwenk said it was not contemplated that the landfill dump would be used for garbage disposal. There was no telling about future developments, he said.

Mayor Schwenk stated that arrangements had been made to have plenty of sand available for covering and that the whole operation would be subject to the regulations, control and supervision of the health authorities.

Damp Protocol

LONDON (AP)—The queen's garden party began at 4 p.m. The rain began at 5.

Most of the 7,000 guests at Buckingham Palace ignored the first trickle. But when it turned into a downpour, the rush for the gates became a torrent.

Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, Prince Philip, were unperturbed. Protocol demanded their presence until 6.

They strolled to the tea tent, and beneath its shelter carried on with the royal presentations.

Shoe Comfort

Your feet need special care during summer months. Select comfortable shoes—ones which do not rub toes or heels. They should give adequate support to the arches and cushion the balls of the feet.

Blind Veterans' $500 Annuity

Certain blind veterans are eligible for a $500 annuity, families and guardians of blind veterans were reminded today by Charles Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

"It is our State's contribution to those veterans who are so handicapped, by assisting them to lead lives of dignity, usefulness, and purposeful citizenship," they stated.

"To be eligible," Culver and Tyler continued, "a veteran must have served in the armed forces without dishonor during specified wartime periods, and must meet New York State's standard of blindness. They must also be on active duty for ninety days or more, unless discharged for a service connected disability, in less than ninety days. In addition, they must have been residents of New York State when they entered active duty in the United States military service, and continue to be residents. The continuous residence requirement is not applicable to annuitants whose claims were approved prior to June 1, 1958."

Families and guardians of blind veterans may secure complete information concerning this annuity by contacting their State Veteran Counselor, Charles Culver, or John Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 4 Hurley Avenue, Kingston, Summer office hours: 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. during July and August.

Three Feared Drowned

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A young girl and a policeman and college boy who tried to rescue her sank and were presumed drowned Tuesday in a 40-foot-deep mud hole gouged in a four-lane highway when a sewer line collapsed during a heavy thunderstorm.

More than 100 policemen, firemen and volunteer workers toiled through the night trying to recover bodies of the three and the car in which the girl had been riding. Their job was complicated when soil on the sides of the crater kept crumbling. A sheet-metal casing was constructed at the scene to be lowered into the hole by a crane.

Missing were Claudia Shidler, 10; Ronald D. Rotruck, 28, an Akron policeman for five years; and Hugh M. O'Neill, 19, a Georgetown University sophomore and summer employee at General Tire and Rubber Co. which was founded by his grandfather, William O'Neill.

Mintz Is Subpoenaed For Race Track Data

NEW YORK (AP)—State Assemblyman Hyman E. Mintz of South Fallsburg has been subpoenaed to testify before a Manhattan grand jury about the circumstances surrounding approval of the construction of the Finger Lakes race track in Canandaigua.

Mintz, a Republican and a lawyer in Monticello, said Tuesday night that he has no connection—financial or otherwise—with the thoroughbred track.

Mintz, 55, asked to produce a statement of his private finances, sent a statement to Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office Tuesday.

Reported Ill in Hospital
Mintz did not appear before the grand jury Tuesday. He was reported to be ill in a hospital at Monticello. His physician, Dr. Samuel G. Holtzman of South Fallsburg, said he is suffering from a heart ailment.

He represents Sullivan County in the state Assembly and is chairman of the Assembly's Ex-Ex-Ex Committee.

Asst. Dist. Atty. David A. Goldstein obtained a State Supreme Court order—answerable Friday—which calls on Mintz to show cause why a doctor should not be permitted to examine him. Mintz said that the order was unnecessary, and added: "They can send any doctor they want to examine me, or a dozen doctors. This is just a publicity stunt—getting a show-cause order."

Mintz said he had been asked by directors of the track in Ontario County to help obtain mortgage money for it. The one-mile track, which is 16 miles from Rochester and 6 miles from Canandaigua, was constructed at a cost of about $5 million and opened in May 1962. It reportedly has not been a financial success.

The grand jury is seeking to determine whether state laws were violated in connection with the State Racing Commission's approval of the application to construct and operate the track.

Liston Adviser Called
Among witnesses before the grand jury Tuesday was Jack Nilon of Chester, Pa., an adviser to Sonny Liston, former world heavyweight boxing champion. Nilon acquired a food and beverage concession at the track.

Mintz said Tuesday night he had gone to Nilon's office to seek mortgage money for the track. "I thought," Mintz said, "that because he had the concession, he might be willing to help keep the track open." Mintz said Nilon "would not contribute one cent."

A spokesman for the racing commission said it was asked

2 Youths Hurt In Olive Crash, Car Flips Over

Two youths were injured at 9 p. m. Tuesday when the small sports car in which they were riding went out of control on Route 28A, Town of Olive, and overturned.

Trooper Norman Kilfoyle of Kingston sub-station, said Peter Darmohraj Jr., 19, of 4838 41st Street, Long Island City, was driving south on the highway when he failed to negotiate a left curve about two miles south of Route 213.

The vehicle went off the right side of the pavement and overturned.

Trooper David Wachtel investigated. He reported the driver suffered lacerations of the head and face and a possible cerebral concussion. A passenger, Zenon Chernykh, 16, of 242 Etremont Avenue, Bronx, sustained abrasions and bruises. Both were taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment.

Woman Critical, Was Rescued From Drowning in Pool

Rescued from drowning in a private swimming pool on the family property at Hopewell Junction, Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Florence Wright, 45, of Route 82, was reported in critical condition at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Fishkill State Police told The Freeman that Mrs. Wright's husband Allen, discovered her floating face down in the swimming pool. He hauled her from the water and summoned East Fishkill Volunteer firemen.

Firemen revived the woman with a resuscitator and she was rushed to Vassar Hospital and admitted for observation. This morning, troopers said, they were informed the condition of Mrs. Wright was critical.

by the investigators two weeks ago for copies of the track's license and files, correspondence and minute books, and supplied everything requested.

The racing commission on April 9, 1959, approved an application by the Finger Lakes Racing Association to file a certificate of incorporation. The license for the track was issued in January 1962.

Cyprus Shepherds Now Live Life of Danger

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The scene seemed straight from the Bible—a gnarled old man with a leather pouch on his back, grazing his sheep on a hillside in the sun.

They found his body next day, crumpled in the bottom of a well, with two bullet holes in his forehead.

One of Most Dangerous
Shepherds in Cyprus watch their flocks in fear, and the once peaceful profession has become one of the most dangerous jobs on the troubled island.

Twenty-one shepherds have been wounded or killed since near-civil war erupted between Greek and Turkish Cypriots. Dozens more have been fired at. At least 10 have vanished or been kidnapped.

"To find grazing for the sheep and goats, we have to go a long way from the villages, and there is no one out there to protect us," explained Hassan Hussein, a 30-year-old shepherd from the Turkish village of Hamit Mandres. "I never know when I go out in the morning if I will ever get home again."

"Forty-five days ago I was with my sheep over there," he said, pointing beyond the barren, dust-colored hills where nothing grows. "I heard shouts and stood up and there were four Greeks running toward me."

They fired their guns and I ran—I ran so fast I left my boots behind. I hid in a dry riverbed."

Every year when the sun-seared fields dry up, the island's shepherds take their flocks to the rich green foothills of the mountains. This year the move means crossing enemy territory, for Greeks and Turks alike, and many shepherds fear their animals will die on the sparse lowland grazing.

"I am 77 years old and I have been a shepherd all my life, and this is the first year I can remember when I couldn't take the sheep to the hills," said Panayis Yanni, a hulking Greek villager from Mia Milea.

"I am not afraid, but my wife is, and she doesn't want me to go to the fields at all."

Would Be Hard Blow to Castro

OAS Expected to Ask New Cuban Crackdown

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Organization of American States is expected to ask all non-Communist nations this week to join in a new crackdown on trade with Cuba.

Should the bid be even partially successful, Prime Minister Fidel Castro's creaky economy undoubtedly would suffer serious new damage through the denial of badly needed imports.

Cuba's railway system is reported to be in a crippling state of disrepair. Trucks and buses are urgently required to replace worn-out highway transport. People stand in long, slow-moving lines to buy food at the stores.

On Gasoline, Sugar

The price of gasoline, which Cuba reportedly gets only from Soviet sources, is up to 60 cents a gallon as against 34 cents a year ago. Production of sugar, Cuba's big export crop, is off more than 25 per cent.

In the judgment of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and some of the other Western Hemisphere foreign meeting here this week, the Castro regime is vulnerable on its economic front. To them it makes sense to seek to apply new pressures among the punitive measures proposed for adoption because of Castro's support of terrorist activities in Venezuela last year.

But the trend in Cuban trade with non-Communist countries is now upward, after declining for four years. Britain and around the Castro regime would not mean any change in U. S. policy. This country has had a total embargo on trade with Cuba since February 1962 except for food and medicine. The new proposal, however, would put an inter-American sanction behind what has been primarily a United States drive so far, and Washington officials believe this could have on practical result. It could cause Latin-American buyers to boycott the products of European countries trading with Cuba. And since they need to buy many of the same things that the Cubans require, those companies interested in Cuban trade might be faced with the loss of markets more important than those they could gain by opening up commerce with Cuba.

Secretary to the salesgirl at a perfume counter—I'd like something that will bring out the mink in a man without disturbing the wolf.

Many years ago, Jim Reed, then Speaker of the House of Representatives, went into a barber shop in Washington to be shaved. The barber, following the custom of his clan, began a program of urging additional services on the Speaker.

"Hair's pretty thin, sir?" he commented, fingering the few stray locks on an otherwise bald pate. "Been that way long, sir?"

"I was born that way," said Reed unemotionally. "Afterward, I enjoyed a brief period of hirsute efflorescence, but it did not endure."

The barber gasped—and said no more.

Later, someone remarked that the departing patron was Speaker of the House.

"Speaker!" exclaimed the ton-social artist. "Say, don't I know it! That fellow really is a speaker!"

By Junius Trade Mark Reg.

Secretary to the salesgirl at a perfume counter—I'd like something that will bring out the mink in a man without disturbing the wolf.

Many years ago, Jim Reed, then Speaker of the House of Representatives, went into a barber shop in Washington to be shaved. The barber, following the custom of his clan, began a program of urging additional services on the Speaker.

"Hair's pretty thin, sir?" he commented, fingering the few stray locks on an otherwise bald pate. "Been that way long sir?"

"I was born that way," said Reed unemotionally. "Afterward, I enjoyed a brief period of hirsute efflorescence, but it did not endure."

The barber gasped—and said no more.

Later, someone remarked that the departing patron was Speaker of the House.

"Speaker!" exclaimed the ton-orial artist. "Say, don't I know it! That fellow really is a speaker!"

Would-be movie starlets seem to have one picture of themselves that's a bust to be a success.

Things that never happen always seem to worry people the most.

When little kids are allowed to sleep out in the back yard mom stays awake all night wondering if the are OK.

Wonder how many people really mean it when they send a post card and write "wish you were here."

Columbia County Clinic Closing Due to Debt

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—A clinic established 18 years ago to serve medical needs in rural Columbia County is closing most of its facilities next month because it is nearly $2 million in the red, officials say.
Dr. Caldwell B. Esselstyn, who gave up a lucrative practice in New York City to set up the Rip Van Winkle Clinic, said Tuesday the clinic would continue to offer mental health and dental services.
In its best days, around 1962, the clinic had a staff of 29 doctors and 100 other persons.
Dr. Esselstyn said the deficit of nearly $2 million had built up during the past 10 years.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I received a note from Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGlotten of West Hurley, who want to know if there was a steamer on the Hudson River by the name of Rip Van Winkle, of Albany, dated 1850. A stamped, addressed envelope was not enclosed, and no items to return, so here is the information in the column, which I hope will aid their son for his school program. First of all, I am interested to know, what school program, in what school, and this letter being dated June 29, 1964 is it for summer school, for our regular school is on vacation. Also, I would appreciate it very much, if instead of only a signature the name be printed out, so I can spell it correctly, as I am not sure, is the name as above, or McGlotten.

I find the Rip Van Winkle, a Hudson River steamer was built in 1845, its gross tons was 534, and dimensions, 242 by 25 by 8. It was used on the New York to Albany run. It was wrecked on April 16, 1872. Captain C. W. Farnham was on it in 1855. In 1865 and 1866 the Rip Van Winkle was used as one of the Troy Night Boats and the captain at that time was Captain O. T. Simmons.

In 1869 the Rip Van Winkle was operating as a New York and Albany passenger boat and she was listed at that time as being 640 tons and built in 1845, so it seems her design had been changed, since her launching so that she was increased 106 tons. On May 18, 1849, while proceeding up Newburgh Bay at about 10 o'clock at night, the Troy Line steamer, Empire, was run into and sunk by the sloop Noah Brown. The steamer began to settle immediately, and the Rip Van Winkle, which was following closely, succeeded in rescuing a large number of passengers.

From the note of West Hurley I have no idea, what information is wanted, nor for what purpose, so I hope this will aid the student, for whatever subject he is taking, and whoever the teacher who asks for it. No doubt more data can be had from a newspaper of around May 18, 1849 and later telling about the 24 lives which were lost at this disaster. It further relates in my records, that the Empire was towed over to the flats on the eastern side of the river by the Rip Van Winkle, and she was afterwards raised and repaired. I would also suggest to the student, that he visit the Senate House Museum and perhaps the Kingston City Library, and there look through whatever records they may have for further information.

I received the Ford Times, of February 1964, and on page 25 they have a beautifully illustrated, with paintings by Arthur Barbour, the Mansions of Hyde Park by Merrill Folsom. No doubt many readers have visited the F.D.R. museum, and the Vanderbilt Castle on the bank of the Hudson River, across from us. I have seen the F.D.R. buildings, but just never saw the Vanderbuilt mansion some two miles up the river from the Roosevelt shrine. According to this article Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, generally kept $3,000,000 in his checking account, "just in case" he wanted to buy something. He bought Hyde Park land when he was 40 years old, and then built his mansion of 54 rooms and 20 baths and lived there from 1895 until he died. We have the same view, from the Port Ewen side, except from the other side of the river. Incidentally the paintings and photographs in Ford Times are always excellent, articles concise and to the point, they seem to use many water colors of places and things seen around the country.

Three Goldwater Opponents Seem Washed Up for Future

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. Barry Goldwater loses the 1964 election the Republican party will have to search for a whole new batch of likely presidential prospects.

With the possible exception of Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, the familiar figures of this year, and past years, seem washed out: Nixon, Rockefeller, Lodge.

Scranton at the end was Goldwater's only active rival for the Republican presidential nomination. He didn't make a glittering race of it.

Even allowing for his late start, much of his effort seemed wishy-washy and his campaign badly organized. But he is only 47. The presidential bug could bite him again although it took some biting this time to get him started.

Besides Goldwater and Scranton only Nixon, Rockefeller and Lodge seemed to have even a remote chance for the nomination. All were figures from the past.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is only 51, which would seem to give him time for another try or two, except for what happened to him.

Although he lost the presidency to Sen. John F. Kennedy in 1960, it was so close he might have been in a favorite spot for the No. 1 role again if he hadn't failed in a try for the governorship of California in 1962. His balloon went down.

A close loss of the presidency is one thing. But to lose the gubernatorial contest could be, and in his case seemed to be, a fatal blow.

He probably didn't endear himself to Scranton or Goldwater. He called the former a puppet and tried to stir up opposition to Goldwater. The senator said he sounded "more and more like Harold Stassen."

Just Another Date

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, 56, will be 60 when the 1968 election comes. But after what happened to him this year 1968 will probably be just a date on the calendar.

He was the one sturdy Republican who fought Goldwater through the primaries, campaigning hard. He beat the senator in Oregon, lost to him in California, and then dropped out when Goldwater's strength seemed too much.

This was his second frustration and second withdrawal. He made sounds like a candidate in 1960 but Nixon had such an inside track for the nomination that Rockefeller pulled out without even trying.

Age Finishes Lodge

If nothing else, age alone would knock Henry Cabot Lodge out of the picture next time. He is 62 now, will be 66 then. He was very unimpressive this year, except for a short time after he won the New Hampshire primary over Goldwater and Rockefeller.

Lodge won there without declaring himself a candidate and while he was still U.S. ambassador in far-off South Viet Nam. When Rockefeller beat him in the Oregon primary, that finished him.

He quit as ambassador to come home, he said, to help Scranton beat Goldwater. But he wasn't very dynamic after he got here. If he thought the lightning might strike him, he was probably the only one who did.

Yet, at the moment, there is no one in sight who could reasonably be said to be the man to replace these familiar figures from the past.

BEATLE-FULL—The Beatle button that Jon Mazzone, 7, of Bristol, Conn., holds spent some time in his stomach. He had placed it in his mouth when, all of a sudden, a friend yelled, "Boo!" and gulp went the button. The pin was removed by surgery.

• BRIDGE

False Card Scares South

BY OSWALD JACOBY

The prettiest false-card I have seen this year was made by Charley Dunaif in a rubber bridge game at New York's Whist Club.

Playing at six spades, South has an automatic trump safety play. He leads low from dummy. When East follows with the deuce, South plays low also to guard against the possibility that all three trumps will be in the East hand.

Now see what happened to Charley's unfortunate opponent. West opened the four of clubs. The king was played from dummy and Charley dropped the queen.

Charley had heard the bidding and had noted that South had tried to get to a grand slam. Hence, it was apparent to him that South would have no losers outside the trump suit.

It also happened that South was a good enough player to use the normal safety play with ten trumps and to take two finesses with nine. Hence, it was up to Charley to do something about that normal play and he proceeded to drop the queen of clubs on dummy's king.

South led the ten of spades from dummy. Charley played the deuce. South thought for a while and finally decided that he could not afford the trump safety play. West might win and return clubs. He went up with his ace and Charley's false-card had paid off.

Fish Story

Visitors are told the bullet hole in the fish was put there by Jesse James when he left town in 1868 after robbing the bank.

But that's a fish story. After the Civil War, a Union Army soldier passed through here, spotted the fish and drilled it with one shot.

When the new courthouse was built in 1904, officials decided to keep their unique weathervane.

Editor, The Freeman:

A public hearing on the proposed Town Hall for the Town of Ulster is slated for July 30, 1964 at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall at 8 p. m. This Town Hall is proposed to be built in front of the Chambers Elementary School on Albany Avenue Extension.

The people will now have the opportunity to express their feelings concerning this proposal.

I would like to make a few facts known that I think would help the public in forming an opinion.

At the time the town hall was proposed I don't believe anyone realized that certain conditions exist now that did not exist at the time of the proposal.

It is a fact that with the opening of the school term in September we will find that the Chambers Elementary School will be at peak student capacity. In addition to this we now have an apartment development being built in Sunset Park that will house approximately 550 persons. How many children, I cannot guess, but with this development and other normal expansion in the area it leaves little doubt in my mind that in the near future school expansion will be necessary, as it is in almost every area in our state and nation.

Under such conditions I feel that the approximately 32,000 square feet of land in front of Chambers School that was given to the Town of Ulster by the Board of Education be returned to the Board of Education for possible use in future school expansion.

I know the Board of Education would be more than pleased to have this land returned.

I would also like to think that since our Town Supervisor is a school teacher in our consolidated school area that he will also feel, along with the Town Board, that this land would much better serve our school system, than to be used for Town purposes.

I would like to stress that this issue not only concerns the people in the Town of Ulster, but it concerns all the people of all the Towns in the consolidated area. It is the privilege of the people in these other towns to contact their local officials and have them contact officials in the Town of Ulster to reconsider the use of this property for a town hall. In fact, request it be returned to the Board of Education for future use in education.

Three Goldwater Opponents Seem Washed Up for Future

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. Barry Goldwater loses the 1964 election the Republican party will have to search for a whole new batch of likely presidential prospects.
With the possible exception of Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, the familiar figures of this year, and past years, seem washed out: Nixon, Rockefeller, Lodge.

Scranton at the end was Goldwater's only active rival for the Republican presidential nomination. He didn't make a glittering race of it.
Even allowing for his late start, much of his effort seemed wishy-washy and his campaign badly organized. But he is only 47. The presidential bug could bite him again although it took some biting this time to get him started.
Besides Goldwater and Scranton only Nixon, Rockefeller and Lodge seemed to have even a remote chance for the nomination. All were figures from the past.
Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is only 51, which would seem to give him time for another try or two, except for what happened to him.

Although he lost the presidency to Sen. John F. Kennedy in 1960, it was so close he might have been in a favorite spot for the No. 1 role again if he hadn't failed in a try for the governorship of California in 1962. His balloon went down.
A close loss of the presidency is one thing. But to lose the gubernatorial contest could be, and in his case seemed to be, a fatal blow.

He probably didn't endear himself to Scranton or Goldwater. He called the former a puppet and tried to stir up opposition to Goldwater. The senator said he sounded "more and more like Harold Stassen."
Just Another Date
New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, 56, will be 60 when the 1968 election comes. But after what happened to him this year 1968 will probably be just a date on the calendar.
He was the one sturdy Republican who fought Goldwater through the primaries, campaigning hard. He beat the senator in Oregon, lost to him in California, and then dropped out when Goldwater's strength seemed too much.
This was his second frustration and second withdrawal. He made sounds like a candidate in 1960 but Nixon had such an inside track for the nomination

BRIDGE

False Card Scares South

BY OSWALD JACOBY
The prettiest false-card I have seen this year was made by Charley Dunaif in a rubber bridge game at New York's Whist Club.
Playing at six spades, South has an automatic trump safety play. He leads low from dummy. When East follows with the deuce, South plays low also to guard against the possibility that all three trumps will be in the East hand.
Now see what happened to Charley's unfortunate opponent. West opened the four of clubs. The king was played from dummy and Charley dropped the queen.
Charley had heard the bidding and had noted that South had tried to get to a grand slam. Hence, it was apparent to him that South would have no losers outside the trump suit.

It also happened that South was a good enough player to use the normal safety play with ten trumps and to take two finesses with nine. Hence, it was up to Charley to do something about that normal play and he proceeded to drop the queen of clubs on dummy's king.
South led the ten of spades from dummy. Charley played the deuce. South thought for a while and finally decided that he could not afford the trump safety play. West might win and return clubs. He went up with his ace and Charley's false-card had paid off.

Fish Story
Visitors are told the bullet hole in the fish was put there by Jesse James when he left town in 1868 after robbing the bank.

But that's a fish story. After the Civil War, a Union Army soldier passed through here, spotted the fish and drilled it with one shot.
When the new courthouse was built in 1904, officials decided to keep their unique weathervane.

He quit as ambassador to come home, he said, to help Scranton beat Goldwater. But he wasn't very dynamic after he got here. If he thought the lightning might strike him, he was probably the only one who did.
Yet, at the moment, there is no one in sight who could reasonably be said to be the man to replace these familiar figures from the past.

Lodge won there without declaring himself a candidate and while he was still U.S. ambassador in far-off South Viet Nam. When Rockefeller beat him in the Oregon primary, that finished him.
He quit as ambassador to come home, he said, to help Scranton beat Goldwater. But he wasn't very dynamic after he got here. If he thought the lightning might strike him, he was probably the only one who did.
Yet, at the moment, there is no one in sight who could reasonably be said to be the man to replace these familiar figures from the past.

BEATLE-FULL—The Beatle button that Jon Mazzone, 7, of Bristol, Conn., holds spent some time in his stomach. He had placed it in his mouth when, all of a sudden, a friend yelled, "Boo!" and gulp went the button. The pin was removed by surgery.

Waterway Patrol Started

Sheriff Bell Cautions Boatmen on Regulations

With New York State leading the nation in pleasure boating, waterways are rapidly becoming danger spots which annually claim many lives and bring injury to countless others. New York state's waterways are used by more than three million boating enthusiasts annually.

As a result of this rapid growth in pleasure boating, many counties have set up a protection patrol to enforce laws and regulations.

Many Warnings Issued
Ulster County, with a considerable mileage on the navigable waters on the Hudson and Rondout Creek, has instituted a weekend patrol designed to protect and enforce the laws. Sheriff Claude Bell each weekend has a patrol on the creek and river and many warnings have been issued for violations.

Unfamiliar with the rules and regulations of the Conservation Department, Division of Motor Boats, Sheriff Bell said many people violate the rules of safety without knowing they are violating the law.

First New York state law requires that every mechanically-propelled vessel operated on navigable waters of the state, or on other waters within the boundaries of the state, except those which are privately owned and not used by the public, must be registered and numbered.

All mechanically propelled boats must be registered. There is no size or horsepower limitations. Sailboats which use auxiliary power, either inboard or outboard, must also register.

Rules of the road must be observed and a pamphlet "New York State Boating Rules and Regulations," a handbook published by the Conservation Department, outlines the rules of navigation.

Speed Frequent Violation
One of the most frequently violated rules is that of speed. Sheriff Bell pointed out that vessels shall be operated at all times in a "careful and prudent manner and at such rate of speed as not to unreasonably interfere with the free and proper use of the navigable waters of the state or unreasonably endanger any craft or person.

No vessel shall be operated within 100 feet of the shore, a dock, pier, raft, float or anchored boat at a speed "exceeding five miles an hour." This is one of the rules most frequently violated, particularly in the Rondout Creek.

Operation of motor craft close to a bathing beach is prohibited. Skiing in a swimming area is not permitted.

The rules also provide that there shall be two persons in a boat which is towing a water skier; one to operate the boat and the other to observe the progress and safety of the skier. The observer must be 10 years of age or over. Water skiing is prohibited from one hour after sunset to one hour after sunrise on all navigable waters of the state except Lake George where prohibition is from sunset to one hour after sunrise.

The operator of a pleasure vessel involved in an accident must stop and offer such assistance to other persons affected by the accident as may be practical and necessary in order to prevent further injury and to minimize any danger resulting from the accident. Accidents in which a person is injured or property damage in excess of $25 must be reported to the Division of Motor Boats within seven days.

Children under the age of 10 may not operate a mechanically propelled vessel on New York State waters unless accompanied by a person over the age of 14.

Persons between the ages of 10 and 14 may not operate such a vessel unless he or she is the holder of a boating safety certificate unless accompanied by a person over the age of 14.

Other Requirements
To obtain the boating safety certificate, youngsters between 10 and 14 years of age must take the New York State Boating Safety Course which is taught throughout the state by volunteer instructors.

There are numerous other requirements and before putting a motor driven boat in the water, the operator should check as to the equipment required by law. This varies somewhat according to the length of the boat but even the smaller boats in Class "A," less than 16 feet in length, must meet the minimum requirements of equipment such as life preservers, horn, signal devices, anchor.

Niagara Solon Dies

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP)—Harold H. Altro, Republican assemblyman from Niagara County's First District, is dead at 69. Altro, who planned to run for election to his fifth successive term in the Assembly next fall, suffered a heart attack Tuesday night at his home. He was a native of Rapids.

He leaves his widow, Honora, and two sisters.

Fresh Air Fund Children Feted At End of Stay

A group of 18 Fresh Air Fund children recently completed their two-week stay as guests of host families in Ulster County at two picnics.

One was held at Peg Leg Bates Country Club, Kerhonkson and the other at Cathalia Hotel, Ellenville.

Nothing Spared

Nothing was spared to make the children's holiday a fully joyous one and everyone helped pull out all the stops, according to Robert Byrd, Ulster County Fresh Air Fund chairman.

The Herald-Tribune Fresh Air Fund program depends on the cooperation of individual host families and the sponsoring B'nai B'rith of Ellenville, and those who contribute to the fund.

The two-week program finale started with a visit to the circus at Kelly Field. This was followed by a picnic at Peg Leg Bates Country Club.

Peg Leg Bates, well-known entertainer and proprietor of the club made his establishment available for the event and also provided the refreshments.

Weather Ideal

Another picnic was held at poolside of Cathalia Hotel. The facilities were made available by Joseph Tso. The weather was ideal for both events.

A grab-bag for a free toy was a highlight of the program. At Cathalia the children participated in a chair-lift ride to the top of the ski slope. The picnics were organized and supervised by the B'nai B'rith with the assistance of the women's chapter including Mrs. Evelyn Greenberg, Mrs. Sheila Chait, Mrs. Rosalyn Rasumny, Mrs. Robert Byrd and Mrs. Joel Calver.

Food was contributed by Karl Grosch, Ellenville Appetizers

and Freskeeto Frozen Foods Inc. The next Fresh Air group is expected to arrive at area homes on August 5.

Area residents who would like to become host families for one or more of the children may contact Mrs. Evelyn Greenberg at Ellenville.

In Basic Training

Private Gaidis Tirums has been assigned to P Company of the Third Training Regiment for eight weeks of basic training in conjunction with the Reserve Enlistment Program at the U. S. Army base in Fort Dix, N. J.

During his training, Tirums will serve on active duty for six months of training and then be transferred to hometown duty, 854th Engineering Battalion, Reserve.

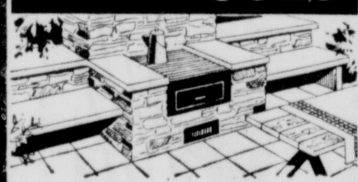

Prior to his arrival at Fort Dix, Tirums, son of Mrs. Velta Tirums of Colonial Gardens, Kingston, graduated from Kingston High School and Michigan State University.

No Real Violence,
Schenectady City
Manager Says

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A Schenectady County official wants Mayor Malcolm Ellis to declare a state of emergency because of what he calls "mob violence . . . causing terror in our city streets."

Malcolm Cinquino, who represents a city ward on the county board of supervisors, also urged Tuesday that the city give firmer backing to police for stepped-up law enforcement. He said street gangs had been involved in 50 incidents of violence in his ward since the year began.

The mayor conceded "there is a problem" and said he would ask City Manager Peter Roan to detail plainclothes policemen to street patrols in the ward. But Roan, who has the power to declare an emergency under the city charter, contended that the city had "no great serious problem."

Roan said that only two cases of rape had been reported in Schenectady this year and that both had ended in arrests. Police said racial conflicts were not involved in the incidents to which Cinquino referred.

State Leads With Syrup

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—New York was the leading state in production of maple syrup with 510,000 gallons in the 1964 season, the State Agriculture Department reported today.

This year's production exceeded last year's by 39 per cent and was 25 per cent greater than the previous five-year average, the department said.

Shockey to Hear
Word Today on
Arizona Trial

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Judge William Holohan summoned Herbert L. Shockey to Superior Court today to learn whether he will stand trial for the murder of a Sherrill, N.Y., couple.

Shockey is charged with two counts of first-degree murder in the gun and knife slaying of John Bertella, 62, and his wife, Mildred, 64. Their bodies were found Feb. 24 on the desert near the Superstition Mountains east of Phoenix.

Two psychiatrists and a psychologist testified Tuesday that they believed the 30-year-old Shockey to be insane.

Another psychiatrist, Dr. Maier Tuchler of Phoenix, disagreed. He called Shockey "an accomplished actor."

Shockey and Theresa Robichaud, 17, of Fresno, Calif., were captured in Nevada March 21 in a pickup-camper owned by the slain couple.

Both were charged with the murders but charges against the girl were dismissed May 13.

One of the most frequently violated rules is that of speed. Sheriff Bell pointed out that vessels shall be operated at all times in a "careful and prudent manner and at such rate of speed as not to unreasonably interfere with the free and proper use of the navigable waters of the state or unreasonably endanger any craft or person.

No vessel shall be operated within 100 feet of the shore, a dock, pier, raft, float or anchored boat at a speed "exceeding five miles an hour." This is one of the rules most frequently violated, particularly in the Rondout Creek.

Operation of motor craft close to a bathing beach is prohibited. Skiing in a swimming area is not permitted.

The rules also provide that there shall be two persons in a boat which is towing a water skier, one to operate the boat and the other to observe the progress and safety of the skier. The observer must be 10 years of age or over. Water skiing is prohibited from one hour after sunset to one hour after sunrise on all navigable waters of the state except Lake George where prohibition is from sunset to one hour after sunrise.

The operator of a pleasure vessel involved in an accident must stop and offer such assistance to other persons affected by the accident as may be practical and necessary in order to prevent further injury and to minimize any danger resulting from the accident. Accidents in which a person is injured or property damage in excess of $25 must be reported to the Division of Motor Boats within seven days.

Children under the age of 10 may not operate a mechanically propelled vessel on New York State waters unless accompanied by a person over the age of 14.

Persons between the ages of 10 and 14 may not operate such a vessel unless he or she is the holder of a boating safety certificate unless accompanied by a person over the age of 14.

Other Requirements

To obtain the boating safety certificate, youngsters between 10 and 14 years of age must take the New York State Boating Safety Course which is taught throughout the state by volunteer instructors.

There are numerous other requirements and before putting a motor driven boat in the water, the operator should check as to the equipment required by law. This varies somewhat according to the length of the boat but even the smaller boats in Class "A", less than 16 feet in length, must meet the minimum requirements of equipment such as life preservers, horn, signal devices, anchor.

Niagara Solon Dies

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP)—Harold H. Altro, Republican assemblyman from Niagara County's First District, is dead at 69.

Altro, who planned to run for election to his fifth successive term in the Assembly next fall, suffered a heart attack Tuesday night at his home. He was a native of Rapids.

He leaves his widow, Honora, and two sisters.

Fresh Air Fund Children Feted At End of Stay

A group of 18 Fresh Air Fund children recently completed their two-week stay as guests of host families in Ulster County at two picnics.

One was held at Peg Leg Bates Country Club, Kerhonkson and the other at Cathalia Hotel, Ellenville.

Nothing Spared

Nothing was spared to make the children's holiday a fully joyous one and everyone helped pull out all the stops, according to Robert Byrd, Ulster County Fresh Air Fund chairman.

The Herald-Tribune Fresh Air Fund program depends on the cooperation of individual host families and the sponsoring B'nai B'rith of Ellenville, and those who contribute to the fund.

The two-week program finale started with a visit to the circus at Kelly Field. This was followed by a picnic at Peg Leg Bates Country Club.

Peg Leg Bates, well-known entertainer and proprietor of the club made his establishment available for the event and also provided the refreshments.

Weather Ideal

Another picnic was held at poolside of Cathalia Hotel. The facilities were made available by Joseph Tso. The weather was ideal for both events.

A grab-bag for a free toy was a highlight of the program. At Cathalia the children participated in a chair-lift ride to the top of the ski slope.

The picnics were organized

Food was contributed by Karl Grosch, Ellenville Appetizers

and Freskeeto Frozen Foods Inc. The next Fresh Air group is expected to arrive at area homes on August 5.

Area residents who would like to become host families for one or more of the children may contact Mrs. Evelyn Greenberg at Ellenville.

No Real Violence,
Schenectady City
Manager Says

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A Schenectady County official wants Mayor Malcolm Ellis to declare a state of emergency because of what he calls "mob violence . . . causing terror in our city streets."

Malcolm Cinquino, who represents a city ward on the county board of supervisors, also urged Tuesday that the city give firmer backing to police for stepped-up law enforcement. He said street gangs had been involved in 50 incidents of violence in his ward since the year began.

The mayor conceded "there is a problem" and said he would ask City Manager Peter Roan to detail plainclothes policemen to street patrols in the ward.

But Roan, who has the power to declare an emergency under the city charter, contended that the city had "no great serious problem."

Roan said that only two cases of rape had been reported in Schenectady this year and that both had ended in arrests.

Police said racial conflicts were not involved in the incidents to which Cinquino referred.

Girl, 2 Drowns

CAYUGA, N.Y. (AP)—Jennifer Deyo, 2, was drowned Tuesday in two feet of water after falling from a pier at her grandfather's camp on Cayuga Lake. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deyo of Cayuga.

State Leads With Syrup

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—New York was the leading state in production of maple syrup with 510,000 gallons in the 1964 season, the State Agriculture Department reported today.

This year's production exceeded last year's by 39 per cent and was 25 per cent greater than the previous five-year average, the department said.

Shockey to Hear
Word Today on
Arizona Trial

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Judge William Holohan summoned Herbert L. Shockey to Superior Court today to learn whether he will stand trial for the murder of a Sherrill, N.Y., couple.

Shockey is charged with two counts of first-degree murder in the gun and knife slaying of John Bertella, 62, and his wife, Mildred, 64. Their bodies were found Feb. 24 on the desert near the Superstition Mountains east of Phoenix.

Two psychiatrists and a psychologist testified Tuesday that they believed the 30-year-old Shockey to be insane.

Another psychiatrist, Dr. Maier Tucher of Phoenix, disagreed. He called Shockey "an accomplished actor."

Shockey and Theresa Robichaud, 17, of Fresno, Calif., were captured in Nevada March 21 in a pickup-camper owned by the slain couple.

Both were charged with the murders but charges against the girl were dismissed May 13.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Political turmoil and racial strife are being added to the uncertainties of business planning.

Businessmen have to plan ahead—or else. This summer had seemed to offer far less than the usual number of uncertainties. As the planners took to the woods or the beaches, all the signs still pointed to a further climb in the economy—and the signs still do.

Well Into Future

The bellwethers—the big corporation and the stock market—obviously were counting on good times.

The corporations were announcing increased spending plans, for updating equipment or adding to existing production facilities. And these plans of necessity looked well into the future.

The stock market has been betting on the nearer term. Prices, especially of many blue chips, have been bid to record highs. The meaning seemed clear—the big investors, individual or institutional, expected increased earnings in the future, and maybe dividends, and certainly higher market values for outstanding shares.

Regular uncertainties that plague the planners were still there, of course. International strife could always upset any predictions. Natural catastrophes such as weather or earthquakes could hit some industries or regions. The always unpredictable consumer could change from his present state of calm confidence to one of doubt and then consumer spending would fall, and so would business sales and earnings.

And the aging business upturn could run afoul of the traditional cycle, if any excesses should develop to trigger a downturn.

Good Time Signs

But the economic signs on the whole were, and are, remarkably near unanimity in predicting continuing good times.

For many business planners, however, there are now some new uncertainties to deal with:

What could racial strife do to production in some localities, to consumer buying here and there, to the choice of localities for new plants? Rioting can mean property damages and loss of goods. It can also frighten away shoppers, or even keep factory workers away from their jobs. Some tourists are reported nervous. Travel to some trouble spots has dropped. Racial strife goes even deeper than these surface matters. Top management in many corporations is taking a new look at hiring plans, at advertising campaigns, at moves to enter new markets. Management-labor relations are affected in a number of industries.

A summer that looked like an economic shoo-in might yet develop some business fireworks unforeseen only a short time back.

Tupper Prepares For Casualties In Defense Test

TUPPER LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Civil Defense officials in this Adirondack resort braced today to receive 1,200 simulated casualties as part of Exercise Sun Drum II, a three-day test of New York State's ability to help injured and homeless victims of a nuclear attack.

About 500 emergency workers arrived Tuesday to help state and local Civil Defense officials set up headquarters in the town hall and to make other preparations.

The imaginary victims include 500 Boy Scouts. About 40 aircraft and 250 fliers from the Civil Air Patrol were stationed at a grass airstrip on the edge of the village, ready to fly radiation-monitoring and supply missions.

An Army convoy rolled into the parking lot at Sunmount Veterans Hospital yesterday with the 817th Evacuation Hospital unit from Camp Drum. Local medical personnel also set up a 200-bed hospital.

Checkpoints to screen incoming traffic were set up at entrances to the village. Teams equipped with geiger counters and walkie-talkies were ready to make a simulated check of radiation levels in the area.

The exercise is being conducted under the assumption that the United States and Canada were attacked July 18 and that their were heavy casualties in New York City, Utica, Rochester and Buffalo.

Major Provisions Of $962.5 Million Antipoverty Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are the major provisions of President Johnson's $962.5-million antipoverty program legislation which the Senate takes up today:

—Unemployed youth programs, $412.5 million, a jobs corps to provide education, work experience and vocational training at conservation camps and job training centers; a work training program for youths in high school and a work-study program providing part-time jobs for needy college students.

—Community action programs, $340 million. This would provide authority to pay up to 90 percent of the cost of community-wide action in health, welfare, job training, vocational rehabilitation, housing and basic education.

—Combating rural poverty, $50 million, including authority for grants of up to $1,500 for low-income rural families and loans of up to $2,500 to finance nonfarm enterprises and to establish housing, sanitation, education and child day-care programs for migrant farm workers.

—Work experience programs, $150 million, experimental and demonstration projects to encourage state programs for unemployed fathers.

Given $47,301 Contract

A $47,301 small-business government contract has been awarded to J. H. Smith Manufacturing Company, Little Britain Road, Newburgh, by the Defense Electronics Supply Center, Dayton, Ohio.

The contract calls for 1,184 mast-mounted, fixed type, antennas in accordance with military specifications.

This firm, fixed-price contract was awarded following competition through formal advertising. One-hundred and three firms were invited to submit bids. Ten bids were received.

Safe Railway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's shortest railroad has completed its third straight accident-free year of operation.

It's a 4.5-mile line, using an 80-ton diesel locomotive to move cars, which supports the mission of Strategic Air Command and tenant units at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Dear Abby . . .

No Chance For Change!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband's "baby" sister (some baby, she is 44!) is getting married again for the fourth time. She lost one husband at Pearl Harbor and two in the divorce court. She is planning a big church wedding. Her excuse is that Calvin (her fiancé) has never been married before and HE deserves a lovely wedding. The truth of the matter is that all of hers were hurry-up affairs and SHE wants a lovely wedding. Besides, Calvin's people resent his marrying a divorcee and I hear they aren't even coming to the wedding. And you can just imagine how all our relatives feel about having to buy a FOURTH wedding present for the same person! How can I stop her? She doesn't listen to anybody.

SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SIS: If she doesn't listen to anybody, she is not about to listen to me. Stop wasting your energy. She is three times seven (doubled!) and doesn't want your advice or mine.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm crazy, but you are the only person I can ask. Is overweight hereditary? I am going with a girl who is a little on the heavy side. Her mother is so fat she has to go through the door sideways. And her grandmother is so enormous she has to be helped up out of chairs. I like this girl very much, Abby, and the thought of marriage has crossed my mind, but if she is going to turn out like her mother and grandmother, I don't know how happy I would be with her later on. What do you think?

SECOND THOUGHTS

DEAR SECOND: "Overweight" is not hereditary. But the tendency toward obesity is. Perhaps a thyroid deficiency or disorder runs in your girl's family. If you are considering marriage, you have a right to ask.

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman keeping company with a man who is separated from his wife, but not divorced. He has three children to support so he never has any money. He seldom takes me out, but he goes into a rage if I accept an invitation to go out with someone else. Don't you think he is a selfish person to take that attitude? I enjoy going places, but never make plans that will interfere with our date nights. I see no marriage in our future and, therefore, don't see why I should give up all my friends. Am I wrong?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: You are not wrong. The man is selfish, but you are foolish to continue seeing him, feeling the way you do. Lose him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LAURA AND TEX: Your boy friend should use the rocks in his head to fill in the holes in yours! Phony names and phony ages would only make for a phony marriage.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TODAY IN HISTORY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, July 22, the 204th day of 1964. There are 162 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1587, three ships arrived at Roanoke, Va., with 91 men, 17 women and 9 children aboard. Help and supplies for the new colony were delayed four years coming from England. By that time the whole colony had vanished; no man has as yet penetrated the mystery of the "Lost Colony."

On this date: In 1620, the Separatists, later known as the Puritans, sailed from Leyden, Holland, for America.

In 1930, President Herbert Hoover signed the London Naval Reduction Treaty.

In 1934, desperado John Dillinger was shot to death by FBI agents on a Chicago street.

Ten years ago — National Guardsmen took over law enforcement in Phenix City, Ala., to end a wave of crime, corruption and fraud.

Five years ago—Communist-led guerrilla forces were moving on northern Laotian army posts.

One year ago—President John F. Kennedy asked Congress to turn over a railroad work rules dispute to the Interstate Commerce Commission in an effort to avert a nationwide strike.

Attracts Snakes

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Snakes are old hat to Mrs. Bonnie Wren of Wichita.

She recently went to a hospital for treatment of the bite of a copperhead snake. While there, she noted that it was the seventh time a poisonous snake had bitten her.

Mrs. Wren, 35, said none of the bites affected her seriously.

She is planning a big church wedding. Her excuse is that Calvin (her fiance) has never been married before and HE deserves a lovely wedding. The truth of the matter is that all of hers were hurry-up affairs and SHE wants a lovely wedding. Besides, Calvin's people resent his marrying a divorcee and I hear they aren't even coming to the wedding. And you can just imagine how all our relatives feel about having to buy a FOURTH wedding present for the same person! How can I stop her? She doesn't listen to anybody.

SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SIS: If she doesn't listen to anybody, she is not about to listen to me. Stop wasting your energy. She is three times seven (doubled!) and doesn't want your advice or mine.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm crazy, but you are the only person I can ask. Is overweight hereditary? I am going with a girl who is a little on the heavy side. Her mother is so fat she has to go through the door sideways. And her grandmother is so enormous she has to be helped up out of chairs. I like this girl very much, Abby, and the thought of marriage has crossed my mind, but if she is going to turn out like her mother and grandmother, I don't know how happy I would be with her later on. What do you think?

SECOND THOUGHTS

DEAR SECOND: "Overweight" is not hereditary. But the tendency toward obesity is. Perhaps a thyroid deficiency or disorder runs in your girl's family. If you are considering marriage, you have a right to ask.

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman keeping company with a man who is separated from his wife, but not divorced. He has three children to support so he never has any money. He seldom takes me out, but he goes into a rage if I accept an invitation to go out with someone else. Don't you think he is a selfish person to take that attitude? I enjoy going places, but never make plans that will interfere with our date nights. I see no marriage in our future and, therefore, don't see why I should give up all my friends. Am I wrong?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: You are not wrong. The man is selfish, but you are foolish to continue seeing him, feeling the way you do. Lose him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LAURA AND TEX: Your boy friend should use the rocks in his head to fill in the holes in yours! Phony names and phony ages would only make for a phony marriage.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TODAY IN HISTORY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, July 22, the 204th day of 1964. There are 162 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1587, three ships arrived at Roanoke, Va., with 91 men, 17 women and 9 children aboard. Help and supplies for the new colony were delayed four years coming from England. By that time the whole colony had vanished; no man has as yet penetrated the mystery of the "Lost Colony."

On this date: In 1620, the Separatists, later known as the Puritans, sailed from Leyden, Holland, for America.

In 1920, President Herbert Hoover signed the London Naval Reduction Treaty.

In 1934, desperado John Dillinger was shot to death by FBI agents on a Chicago street.

Ten years ago — National Guardsmen took over law enforcement in Phenix City, Ala., to end a wave of crime, corruption and fraud.

Five years ago — Communist guerrilla forces were moving on northern Laotian army posts.

One year ago — President John F. Kennedy asked Congress to turn over a railroad work rules dispute to the Interstate Commerce Commission in an effort to avert a nationwide strike.

Attracts Snakes

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Snakebites are old hat to Mrs. Bonnie Wren of Wichita.

She recently went to a hospital for treatment of the bite of a copperhead snake. While there, she noted that it was the seventh time a poisonous snake had bitten her.

Mrs. Wren, 35, said none of the bites affected her seriously.

Still Room in Colleges

School Rush Not As Heavy as It Appears: Survey

CHICAGO (AP)—Many colleges and universities are slamming their doors on thousands of applicants because of a lack of space.

But a survey by The Associated Press showed today there still is room in many other institutions of higher education, especially in less-populated states.

Some Resort to Parlay

The survey indicated the school rush isn't as heavy as it seems. In some instances, prospective students are parlaying, say, to three different colleges in the hope of getting into one of them.

A high school graduate seeking admission to the University of Massachusetts or to one of the 10 state colleges in the Bay State came up against odds of almost 5-1.

The university received 12,000 applications for 2,600 openings in the freshman class entering in September. The state colleges, primarily for teacher training, admitted 3,700 of 18,000 applicants.

Georgia Tech has closed its registration books. The University of Georgia did likewise May 4, the earliest cutoff date in its history. Emory University took similar action March 10.

Villanova University, for the first time, had to put a lid on applications for the freshman class.

The University of Rhode Island and Rhode Island College had to cease consideration of new applications in the spring. Providence (R.I.) College rejected more than 1,000 requests for admission.

14,000 Seek 3,555 Places

"In all divisions of Rutgers (New Brunswick, Newark, Camden) by Feb. 12 we had received 14,000 applications from fully qualified students," a spokesman said, "and yet have room for only 3,555 in the next freshman class. The men's colleges in New Brunswick cut off applications Feb. 15."

The University of Illinois has announced it may have to turn away 2,600 would-be students at its Urbana and Chicago campuses.

Darmouth is rejecting applicants by the platoon.

In some schools, such as the University of Missouri, enrollment will be limited by a shortage of housing. In others, lack of adequate classroom facilities is a big factor.

But the biggest factor is that children born early in the post-war baby boom now are knocking on college gates.

The State University of New York, comprising 58 units scattered across the state has had to turn away students in recent years. It pointed out that it receives applications from young folks who apply simultaneously to several schools.

Scout, Bitten By Dog, Is Due To Arrive Today

WHITESBORO, N.Y. (AP)—A young Boy Scout, who was the subject of a widespread search after he was bitten by a dog in St. Louis, Mo., was expected to arrive home here today with his group of traveling companions. The search for Steven Palmer was begun Tuesday when police could not find the dog that bit him. Police and scout officials sought to have the boy begin taking rabies shots as a precautionary measure.

The youth and his fellow scouts were located Tuesday night at a campsite in Springfield, Ohio, a scout official here said. Palmer was to receive treatment from a physician in that city.

The group, enroute from a Boy Scout ranch in New Mexico, stayed at a field house at Washington University in St. Louis on Monday night. The youth was bitten early yesterday by a black, wire-haired terrier.

While police searched for the dog, the group left St. Louis in the apparent belief that the animal could be located easily and tested for rabies.

Washington University officials said the Boy Scout group administered first aid to Palmer but did not think it necessary to take him to a physician.

4 Residents Are In Outstanding Young Man Listing

A justice of the peace, a city judge, a former district attorney and an outstanding young farmer, all of Ulster County have been selected for inclusion in the 1965 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America.

They are: Robert S. Stedje of Columbia Street, Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace, and salesman.

City Judge Joseph D. Saccoccia of 116 Marius Street.

Attorney Howard C. St. John, 27 Burgevin Street, a former district attorney.

Richard P. Boice, dairy farm operator of Lake Katrine and Jaycees Outstanding Young Farmer in 1963.

They were nominated earlier this year by Kingston Jaycees and have been selected for the listing by a 13-man National Board of Editors.

Douglas Blankenship, past U. S. Jaycee president (1962-63) who is serving as chairman of the board, stated that men were selected between the ages of 21 and 36, who "had distinguished themselves in one or more fields of endeavor to the point of being outstanding."

Outstanding Young Men of America is an annual biographical compilation of approximately 10,000 young men of outstanding rank throughout the country. From many sources, however, the majority of the nominations are made by Junior Chamber of Commerce Chapters and College Alumni Associations.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has long been active in the recognition of outstanding achievement among America's young men. Each year since 1938 the Jaycees have selected the 10 Outstanding Young Men of America. Among past winners are such famous personalities as John F. Kennedy (1946); Nelson Rockefeller (1941); Dr. Tom Dooley (1956); and Henry Ford, II (1945). Winners of state Outstanding Young Men awards will be pictured throughout the book, President Lyndon B. Johnson will write the foreword for the 1965 edition.

The book is 7" x 10" in size and will contain approximately 896 pages. The binding is blue with gold embossing. Publication date is approximately January 15, 1965.

Plans Completed For Annual Fair At Local Church

Final preparations have been completed by the Ladies Aid Society of the Tillson Reformed Church for the annual benefit fair and auction to take place Saturday, July 25 on the grounds adjacent to the church, between Route 32 and Springtown Road in Tillson.

Opening at 11 a. m., the fair will continue until dark. A number of booths will display a large variety of items, such as homemade articles, fancy articles, homebaked goods, and others.

At 1 p. m., the auction will get under way, with Ernest Hopper as auctioneer. A large crowd is expected to be at the auction, for numerous items of value will be offered.

To make it convenient for those who enjoy outdoor eating, or for those who plan to spend the day at the fair, a "chuck wagon style cook-out" has been arranged this year. Food, including grilled hamburgers, hot dogs, homemade baked beans, salads, corn on the cob, pie and cake, coffee or cold drinks will be available all the time the fair is open. The public may come to the fair to have a meal, or to browse around the various booths.

Proceeds of the event will be for the benefit of the Ladies Aid organization.

Reds to Form Alliance

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Burma's feuding Communist rebel factions have agreed to form an alliance in the face of heavy mauling by government troops, reports reaching Rangoon said today.

Elements of the Karen rebels, one of the five major insurrectionist groups in Burma, already have aligned themselves with the Communists.

Press reports said the Red Flag, or Trotskyite Communists, and the White Flag, or Peking-leaning Communists, made a deal that would unite their combined guerrilla following of 3,000.

Police Party Takes Crooks to Cleaners

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The police gave a party Tuesday night and a crowd of crooks was taken to the cleaners.

The party-goers included a number of persons wanted on charges of shoplifting, narcotics sales and burglaries.

The party—it was actually catered with food and refreshments costing $104—capped a three-month undercover investigation.

Detectives Are Hosts

The hosts were detectives Robert N. Frey and George J. Hughes, who three months ago opened a laundry shop just four blocks off busy Canal Street in the heart of the city's commercial district.

Informers passed word to the underworld that Frey, posing as Harry Long, the laundry operator, was a fence—criminal jargon for a man who buys stolen goods.

Police Supt. Joseph I. Giarrusso said Frey and Hughes actually bought $47,000 in stolen property at a cost of $11,000.

$360,000 Agency Funds Aid Area Plant Purchase

HUDSON—New York Job Development Authority today presented a check for $360,000 to Advance, Inc., a local non-profit industrial development corporation in the Town of Greenport, at the offices of the V & O Press Company, Inc., in Hudson. The check represented a second mortgage loan to help finance the purchase of a plant in Greenport previously owned by the Emhart Manufacturing Company of Bloomfield, Conn., by the V & O Press Company, Inc.

The plant (formerly Emhart's V & O Press Division) had been idle for about six months when it was purchased by the newly formed V & O Press Company about 18 months ago; employment has since risen from 135 to 174. The company manufactures metal stamping machines, drill presses and other special machinery for manufacturing companies.

Total cost of the V & O purchase was $1,200,000. Participating in the financing with JDA were the National Commercial Bank and Trust Company of Albany, the New York Business Development Corporation and the Hudson City Savings Institution. The JDA loan was approved in March 1963.

The State Commerce Department's Bureau of Industrial Development and W. Dale Swartzmiller, department regional manager for the Mid-Hudson region, participated in negotiations leading to the loan.

Since its establishment in 1962, the New York Job Development Authority has approved 57 loans totaling more than $8.3 million. State Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh is chairman of the JDA, and H. Kaye Kerr is executive director. JDA offices are at 112 State Street, Albany.

The Latin American Studies Program will be directed by Professor Charles C. Griffen of Vassar College. Four outstanding scholars in this area of study will participate in conducting this seminar and related studies.

Rotary Barbecue Ticket Sale Is Reported Brisk

Dr. Clement I. Angstrom and Clarence H. Buddenhagen, co-chairmen of the ticket committee for the annual Kingston Rotary Club Chicken Barbecue today reported brisk advance sales of tickets.

The barbecue takes place at the Beatty Farm on Hurley Avenue again this year on Saturday, Aug. 15. All members of the Rotary Club have tickets to sell. Children's tickets are half price.

The unusual feature of this major annual Rotary Club project is that all of the work is done by members of the club. They have become very proficient in preparing the food, cooking and serving over 1,250 persons in about three hours. The first serving will start at 4 p. m. and continue until 7:30 p. m. William Palmer and Harry Beatty are co-chairmen of the barbecue. The equipment owned by the Rotary Club makes it possible to serve all comers without delay.

Police Supt. Joseph I. Giarrusso said Frey and Hughes actually bought $47,000 in stolen property at a cost of $11,000 from 53 persons, including several real fences.

Giarrusso, Mayor Victor Schiro, Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Frank Klein and newsmen gathered at police headquarters Tuesday night to listen over the police radio to the party.

It started at 8 p. m. Frey met his first guest at the door and ushered him to a back room. Other officers handcuffed the guest, who stood staring unhelpfully at the refreshments as a phonograph blared.

Raid Homes of Fences

Sixteen of Frey's customers showed up. Another 14 uninvited guests came along and police said many were wanted in connection with other cases.

Then Giarrusso ordered sweeping raids on the homes of 10 known fences, where a number of other persons were arrested and a large amount of stolen property was recovered.

By early today, a total of 32 arrests had been made. Frey said some of his customers brazenly brought large stolen articles such as lawn mowers, stereo sets, and televisions to him in broad daylight.

$360,000 Agency Funds Aid Area Plant Purchase

HUDSON—New York Job Development Authority today presented a check for $360,000 to Advance, Inc., a local non-profit industrial development corporation in the Town of Greenport, at the offices of the V & O Press Company, Inc. in Hudson. The check represented a second mortgage loan to help finance the purchase of a plant in Greenport previously owned by the Emhart Manufacturing Company of Bloomfield, Conn., by the V & O Press Company, Inc.

The plant (formerly Emhart's V & O Press Division) had been idle for about six months when it was purchased by the newly formed V & O Press Company about 18 months ago; employment has since risen from 135 to 174. The company manufactures metal stamping machines, drill presses and other special machinery for manufacturing companies.

The State Commerce Department's Bureau of Industrial Development and W. Dale Swartzmiller, department regional manager for the Mid-Hudson region, participated in negotiations leading to the loan.

Since its establishment in 1962, the New York Job Development Authority has approved 57 loans totaling more than $8.3 million. State Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh is chairman of the JDA, and H. Kaye Kerr is executive director. JDA offices are at 112 State Street, Albany.

Rotary Barbecue Ticket Sale Is Reported Brisk

Dr. Clement I. Angstrom and Clarence H. Buddenhagen, co-chairmen of the ticket committee for the annual Kingston Rotary Club Chicken Barbecue today reported brisk advance sales of tickets.

The barbecue takes place at the Beatty Farm on Hurley Avenue again this year on Saturday, Aug. 15. All members of the Rotary Club have tickets to sell. Children's tickets are half price.

The unusual feature of this major annual Rotary Club project is that all of the work is done by members of the club. They have become very proficient in preparing the food, cooking and serving over 1,250 persons in about three hours. The first serving will start at 4 p. m. and continue until 7:30 p. m. William Palmer and Harry Beatty are co-chairmen of the barbecue. The equipment owned by the Rotary Club makes it possible to serve all comers without delay.

Dr. Skinner Spoke At Kennedy Memorial

The Rev. Dr. Morris C. Skinner, pastor of First Lutheran Church, Albany, and vice president of the Capital Area Council of Churches, was pronounced dead on arrival at Albany Medical Center Tuesday. He suffered a heart attack at his home, 12 Holmes Dale.

Dr. Skinner, 60, was one of the speakers at memorial services for President Kennedy in Washington the day of his funeral.

Funeral Saturday
Funeral services will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at the First Lutheran Church. Burial will be private in Prospect Hill Cemetery, Gloversville. The family has requested donations to a memorial fund at the church.

Albany County Coroner William Sheridan said Dr. Skinner had returned from officiating at a funeral when he was taken ill. Dr. Skinner had been under the care of a physician for a heart ailment.

Dr. Skinner was chairman of the board of trustees at Hartwick College, Oneonta. He was installed as pastor of the First Lutheran Church, the oldest Lutheran Church in America, in 1950 after coming from Zion Lutheran Church, Cobleskill, where he served for 12 years.

Dr. Skinner was a graduate of Hartwick Academy and Seminary and Wittenberg College, Ohio. He was ordained in 1928. In 1945, Hartwick awarded him the doctor of divinity degree. He was a native of Middleburg. He was a native of Middleburg.

Daughter From Saugerties
He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marion Lawyer Skinner; a daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Rau of Saugerties; a son, David H. Skinner of Albany; two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Benzino of Eggertsville and Miss Grace Skinner of Middleburg; four brothers, James and John Skinner of Middleburg; Fred of Albany and Howard Skinner of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Serevane, acting mayor in Wagner's absence, was asked whether there is evidence that Communists had fostered some disorders.

"I don't think there's any question about it," Serevane said. "Some of the people who have been involved in some of the meetings and rallies that have been called are known Communists, and I don't have any doubt about that."

"I would like to point out, however, that the whole rioting operation is directed toward the so-called fringe groups, including the Communist party, some of the other more radical groups, and not involving the rank-and-file persons living in the Harlem community. They're as frightened as people who live outside of the community."

Criminals Took Part
Serevane also said that criminals and rowdy youths took advantage of the disorders.

President Johnson said in a statement issued in Washington that he telephoned Serevane. "I have told him," Johnson said, "of my willingness to cooperate in every way possible to help him in this time of agony."

"It must be made clear, once and for all, that violence and lawlessness cannot, must not and will not be tolerated."

George Reedy, White House press secretary, declined to specify what measures, beyond the FBI investigation, might be included in the offer of cooperation.

Rioting Around World

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK—Racial violence broke out in Brooklyn's Negro section throughout the night but Harlem had its first relatively quiet night after three nights of rioting. Two Negroes were shot, one critically, in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section.

SINGAPORE—More than 6,000 troops and police enforced a curfew after rioting between Malays and Chinese Tuesday night in which eight were killed and 341 injured.

WASHINGTON — Several hundred Cuban exiles clashed with police Tuesday during an anti-Castro demonstration by 5,000. More than 400 police prevented an attempt to march to the meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers. Some 47 Cubans and a policeman were injured, none seriously.

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana—At least eight Indians were seriously injured Tuesday in a clash between Negroes and East Indians in the Betoverwagting coastal area. Scores have been killed in almost daily racial violence in the British South American colony since January.

3rd Asset Shot Launched Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

A spacecraft with delta-shaped wings rocketed skyward today on an intended scorching ballistic flight to test materials for maneuverable manned space vehicles.

A two-stage Thor-Delta rocket propelled the sleek black payload aloft at 10:39 a.m. (EST). The winged research craft was to soar more than 40 miles high and then plummet back through the atmosphere to a landing in the Atlantic Ocean about 25 minutes after launching.

Peak speed was expected to reach more than 12,000 miles an hour during the fiery dive back to earth.

The launching was the third of six planned in the Air Force's Project Asset, which stands for aerothermodynamic - elastic structural systems environmental tests.

So far the program has had only partial success. The first Asset vehicle survived a ballistic flight and radioed good data, but sank in the Atlantic when flotation gear failed. The second shot failed because of trouble with the second stage of the Thor-Delta booster.

Goal of the Asset series is to verify structural soundness of the spacecraft and to determine how well various protective materials withstand atmospheric buffeting and re-entry heat up to 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Asset craft are miniature versions of what future astronaut vehicles might look like. They weigh 1,100 pounds, are six feet tall and have a wing-span of five feet.

the operator of the Chrysler car. Also injured was Gail Kinsella, 26, of RD 1, Middletown, who suffered a fractured hip and facial injuries.

Troopers said the injured were all taken to St. Anthony Hospital, Warwick.

Investigation of the Route 1A accident is continuing.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock-market prices duplicated the pattern of the last two sessions by heading downward early this afternoon. Activity continued at a sub-5-million-share pace.

Prices were steady most of the morning. Shortly before midday, more and more minus signs appeared. All major groups were lower or no better than mixed.

At noon, The Associated Press 60-stock average was off a minimum 1 at 319.8 with industrials down 6, rails up .5 and utilities unchanged.

Once again there was no specific news to cause the price slide.

The noon Dow Jones industrial average was $44.47, off 2.48.

U.S. Steel fell about a point as did Jones & Laughlin. Republic and Bethlehem were down 1/2 or more.

Continue Search For Three Linked To Station Job

Authorities throughout the area today continued search for three white men wanted for questioning in connection with a $200 armed robbery at a Pleasant Valley service station.

The trio, according to South Millbrook State Police, reportedly robbed Theron Funk, 16, an attendant at Lynbrook Garage on Dutchess turnpike (Route 44) Monday night. Funk told troopers one of the men armed with a pistol forced him into a men's room.

The money was taken from the cash register. Funk said he didn't have a chance to get a good description of the men other than to note they were white. The alleged robbers made a getaway in a station wagon.

A 13-state alarm has been sent out.

Money Hibernates Best In Savings Account

Q "We bought 100 Avco at 23% and 100 Automatic Canteen at 13%. We went short 100 shares of Vornado at 27%. We plan to build a house in November, upon retirement from the Air Force. We will need our money now tied up in these stock transactions but don't feel we can afford to take a loss. What would you advise?" C. H.

A I believe you will just have to accept the relatively small loss involved in getting rid of both your long and short positions at this time, since you require your funds in November. You have in effect invested with a time limit, always a rather dangerous procedure. I can't tell you, nor can anyone else, whether the price on any one of three given stocks will be higher or lower within a relatively short time span which includes a Presidential election.

I believe your money belongs in a savings institution, safe from further fluctuations, until you require it.

Q "I have been interested in tax-exempt bonds. I am in a relatively high bracket, have a large stock list and own no tax-exempts. I have more than enough income from my business but will be retiring soon and may require more income from investments. Do you believe I should buy tax-exempts, and if so, what do you suggest?" R. DeC.

A I congratulate you on your financial well-being. You should own some tax-exempts—not simply for their relatively high taxable equivalent yield but also because they will act as a backup to your entire portfolio, lending a degree of stability that stocks alone cannot give you.

I suggest for your investment California 3 1/2% of 2000 to yield 3.60; Cincinnati, Ohio 3 1/4% of 1986 on a 3.20 basis and New Jersey Highway Authority Revenue 3.40% of 1987 selling at par.

Suspect Sought In Dutchess Death, Called Suspicious

A widespread investigation was underway this afternoon by State Police officials of Troop K, of the suspicious death of an 83-year-old Dutchess County man, who was found beaten to death in his trailer home.

Rhinebeck troopers said Percy Barnes was discovered dead in his home at 6:30 a. m. today by Charles Kipp, a Conservation department game warden, of Rhinebeck, who was on a routine tour checking rabbits in the area.

'Have Good Lead'
Kipp told authorities he noticed the door of Barnes' trailer open and as he looked in he discovered the elderly man lying in a pool of blood on the floor. Kipp immediately notified state police.

Early this afternoon a trooper told The Freeman "we have a good lead." A suspect was being sought.

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta said after receiving preliminary reports of the case, that there is "definite evidence of homicide."

Troopers said articles taken from the trailer home were found strewn along Schoolhouse Road for a distance of about three miles.

At 12:30 p. m. troopers were taking a statement from the executor of Barnes' estate in an effort to determine what of value was missing from the trailer home.

Robbery Motive Possible
In 1955, Barnes had notified authorities he had been robbed, and troopers said there is a possibility that robbery might have been the motive for the fatal beating. The time of the assault on the old man had not been determined.

Dr. Chester H. Golding, Wappingers Falls, Dutchess county medical examiner, performed an autopsy. There was a possibility Barnes might have died of suffocation from inhaling blood.

Lieut. Supervisor George Lake and Lieut. Supervisor J. C. Dwyer of Troop K, Hawthorne, in command of the BCI in that zone, directed the investigation with the district attorney and his staff.

Others investigating were Zone Sgt. George Erskine, Senior BCI Investigator Emmett F. Donohue, Investigators Joseph Waters, Richard Cobey, Gil Olsen, Walter J. Konowski and Troopers E. J. Anderson, H. C. McAllen and John McLean.

Dr. Higgins stated that the volume of material resulting from the combination, permits the exceptional services and standards offered by the laboratory. He suggested that with the nationwide trend to attempt to hold down hospital costs by combined laboratory facilities, "The City of Kingston Laboratory can be used as an example to those who have problems of combining services to give better and more accurate service at a less cost."

Mayor Schwenk explained that with the receipt of this recognition, the City of Kingston Laboratory, with its affiliated hospitals, is only the third accredited laboratory in New York State, and among the first in the United States to be certified by the College of American Pathologists.

Temporary Stay Is Obtained in Recount of Votes

The Ulster County Board of Elections has been temporarily stayed from beginning a canvass of the vote cast on Primary Day for the position of Ulster County State Democratic Committeewoman.

Tuesday Francis Martocci, counsel for Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz, incumbent, obtained a temporary stay of the order of Justice John Pennock which directed that a recount be held of the vote cast for Mrs. Kerr and her opponent, Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel of West Hurley. Mrs. Narel lost to Mrs. Kerr by 46 votes, according to the official canvass.

Mrs. Narel brought a proceeding demanding a recount of the vote, through her attorney Franklin Gavin of Woodstock and Albany. Justice Pennock directed that recount be held within five days after the order had been served on the board of elections and counsel, the ballots be delivered to the board of elections and the recount be had. This requires the recount to commence Thursday.

An appeal was taken by Mrs. Kerr from the order of Justice Pennock and on Tuesday under a show cause order a temporary stay was signed by Justice Felix J. Aulisi, Appellate Division, Third Department, at Amsterdam. This show cause order is returnable before Justice Aulisi at Amsterdam July 28. At that time the petitioners and the board of election may show cause why all proceedings should not be stayed pending hearing and disposition of the pending appeal.

CORE President
by a Woodstock group that was "infiltrating" the chapter in an effort to destroy it.

Today, Miss Miller said that Woodstock members have been particularly adamant that CORE headquarters remain in Kingston.

She further stated: "Furthermore, none of the members is clear about what Mrs. Van Dyke meant by 'infiltration' since the group is not a clandestine society nor its membership list a secret. The local chapter also wants it clearly understood that neither the Woodstock Playhouse nor its owner, M. Edgar Rosenblum, is in any way associated with the group, as implied by Mrs. Van Dyke."

When plans for the Fall benefit were drawn up in June, the owner of the Playhouse was approached by CORE for permission to use his facilities for the event, and he graciously agreed to the request.

The public chastisement of Mrs. Van Dyke for behavior not in concert with national CORE policies at last Sunday's meeting came not as a result of the barbershop incident, which few of the members had been told about, but for other precipitous public actions she had taken about which she repeatedly failed to inform the group in advance and which were felt to discredit the aims and methods of CORE, whose cardinal tenet is that demonstrations come only after all attempts to negotiate have failed.

It must be emphasized again and again that CORE does not seek to alienate the community in which it works, but rather it seeks to educate the citizenry on the just and legitimate rights of the minority groups within its midst and to see to it these rights are realized without hostility and bloodshed.

Coffee beans have to be hand-picked.

3rd Asset Shot Launched Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A spacecraft with delta-shaped wings rocketed skyward today on an intended scorching ballistic flight to test materials for maneuverable manned space vehicles.

A two-stage Thor-Delta rocket propelled the sleek black payload aloft at 10:39 a.m. EST. The winged research craft was to soar more than 40 miles high and then plummet back through the atmosphere to a landing in the Atlantic Ocean about 25 minutes after launching.

Peak speed was expected to reach more than 12,000 miles an hour during the fiery dive back to earth. The launching was the third of six planned in the Air Force's Project Asset, which stands for aerodynamic, elastic structural systems environmental tests.

So far the program has had only partial success. The first Asset vehicle survived a ballistic flight and radioed good data, but sank in the Atlantic when flotation gear failed. The second shot failed because of trouble with the second stage of the Thor-Delta booster.

Goal of the Asset series is to verify structural soundness of the spacecraft and to determine how well various protective materials withstand atmospheric buffeting and re-entry heat up to 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Asset craft are miniature versions of what future astronaut vehicles might look like. They weigh 1,100 pounds, are six feet tall and have a wing-span of five feet.

Troopers said the injured were all taken to St. Anthony Hospital, Warwick.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock-market prices duplicated the pattern of the last two sessions by heading downward early this afternoon. Activity continued at a sub-5-million-share pace.

Prices were steady most of the morning. Shortly before midday, more and more minus signs appeared. All major groups were lower or no better than mixed.

At noon, The Associated Press 60-stock average was off a minimum 1 at 319.8 with industrials down .6, rails up .5 and utilities unchanged.

Once again there was no specific news to cause the price slide.

The noon Dow Jones industrial average was $44.47, off 2.48.

U.S. Steel fell about a point as did Jones & Laughlin. Republic and Bethlehem were down 1/2 or more.

Continue Search For Three Linked To Station Job

Authorities throughout the area today continued search for three white men wanted for questioning in connection with a $200 armed robbery at a Pleasant Valley service station.

The trio, according to South Millbrook State Police, reportedly robbed Theron Funk, 16, an attendant at Lynbrook Garage on Dutchess turnpike (Route 44) Monday night. Funk told troopers one of the men armed with a pistol forced him into a men's room.

The money was taken from the cash register. Funk said he didn't have a chance to get a good description of the men other than to note they were white.

The alleged robbers made a getaway in a station wagon.

Money Hibernates Best In Savings Account

Q) "We bought 100 Avco at 23 1/2 and 100 Automatic Canteen at 13 1/2. We went short 100 shares of Vornado at 27 1/2. We plan to build a house in November, upon retirement from the Air Force. We will need our money, now tied up in these stock transactions but don't feel we can afford to take a loss. What would you advise?" C. H. A)

I believe you will just have to accept the relatively small loss involved in getting rid of both your long and short positions at this time, since you require your funds in November. You have in effect invested with a time limit, always a rather dangerous procedure. I can't tell you, nor can anyone else, whether the price on any one of three given stocks will be higher or lower within a relatively short time span which includes a Presidential election.

I believe your money belongs in a savings institution, safe from further fluctuations, until you require it.

Q) "I have been interested in tax-exempt bonds. I am in a relatively high bracket, have a large stock list and own no tax-exempts. I have more than enough income from my business but will be retiring soon and may require more income from investments. Do you believe I should buy tax-exempts, and if so, what do you suggest?" R. DeC.

A) I congratulate you on your financial well-being. You should own some tax-exempts—not simply for their relatively high taxable equivalent yield but also because they will act as a backlog to your entire portfolio, lending a degree of stability that stocks alone cannot give you.

I suggest for your investment California 3 1/2's of 2000 to yield 3.60; Cincinnati, Ohio 3 1/2's of 1986 on a 3.20 basis and New Jersey Highway Authority Revenue 3.40's of 1987 selling at par.

Suspect Sought In Dutchess Death, Called Suspicious

A widespread investigation was underway this afternoon by State Police officials of Troop K, of the suspicious death of an 83-year-old Dutchess County man, who was found beaten to death in his trailer home.

Rhinebeck troopers said Percy Barnes was discovered dead in his home at 6:30 a. m. today by Charles Kipp, a Conservation department game warden, of Rhinebeck, who was on a routine tour checking rabbits in the area.

'Have Good Lead'
Kipp told authorities he noticed the door of Barnes' trailer open and as he looked in he discovered the elderly man lying in a pool of blood on the floor. Kipp immediately notified state police.

Early this afternoon a trooper told The Freeman "we have a good lead." A suspect was being sought.

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta said after receiving preliminary reports of the case, that there is "definite evidence of homicide."

Troopers said articles taken from the trailer home were found strewn along Schoolhouse Road for a distance of about three miles.

At 12:30 p. m. troopers were taking a statement from the executor of Barnes' estate in an effort to determine what of value was missing from the trailer home.

Robbery Motive Possible
In 1955, Barnes had notified authorities he had been robbed, and troopers said there is a possibility that robbery might have been the motive for the fatal beating. The time of the assault on the old man had not been determined.

Dr. Chester H. Golding, Wappingers Falls, Dutchess county medical examiner, performed an autopsy. There was a possibility Barnes might have died of suffocation from inhaling blood.

Lieut. Supervisor George Lake and Lieut. Supervisor J. C. Dwyer of Troop K, Hawthorne, in command of the BCI in that zone, directed the investigation with the district attorney and his staff.

Others investigating were Zone Sgt. George Erskine, Senior BCI Investigator Emmett F. Donohue, Investigators Joseph Waters, Richard Cobey, Gil Olsen, Walter, Konowski and Troopers E. J. Anderson, H. C. McMillen and John McLean.

Holds Down Costs
2. The advantages of a laboratory combining the needs of two hospitals and the City of Kingston. Dr. Higgins stated that the volume of material resulting from the combination, permits the exceptional services and standards offered by the laboratory. He suggested that with the nationwide trend to attempt to hold down hospital costs by combined laboratory facilities, "The City of Kingston laboratory can be used as an example to those who have problems of combining services to give better and accurate service at a less cost."

Mayor Schwenk explained that with the receipt of this recognition, the City of Kingston Laboratory, with its affiliated hospitals, is only the third accredited laboratory in New York State, and among the first in the United States to be certified by the College of American Pathologists.

To Withdraw Troops

LONDON (AP)—Britain is
withdrawing some of the 2,000
troops it sent to Aden last May to stamp out tribal uprisings
threatening the Federation of South Arabia.

The Defense Ministry announced Tuesday night that British forces had reached their immediate objectives in the cluster of sheikhdoms encircling
Aden. The ministry said the
First Battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers would return to Britain by August.

Britain began bolstering its Aden garrison May 1 when the South Arabian government
asked for help against the tribesmen, charging that they were being aided by the Yemen republican regime and the United Arab Republic.

To Withdraw Troops

LONDON (AP)—Britain is
withdrawing some of the 2,000 troops it sent to Aden last May to stamp out tribal uprisings
threatening the Federation of South Arabia.The Defense Ministry announced Tuesday night that British forces had reached their immediate objectives in the cluster of sheikhdoms encircling
Aden. The ministry said the
First Battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers would return to Britain by August.Britain began bolstering its Aden garrison May 1 when the South Arabian government
asked for help against the tribesmen, charging that they were being aided by the Yemen republican regime and the United Arab Republic.ROSENDALE

4th Comedy Opens At Mount Cathalia

The Mount Cathalia Playhouse, Ellenville, opened its fourth comedy presentation of the season with "The Tunnel of Love." The production will run through July 26.

"The Tunnel of Love," evolves around the childless marriage of Augie and Isolde Poole, who attempt parenthood through adoption. The Poole's closest friends, the Peppers, gladly offer their services to the adoption agency as character references. The comedy situation reaches its peak when Dick Pepper finds himself enamored with the very attractive social worker from the adoption agency. Theatergoers will delight in the humorous and touching situations that unfold.

The leading role of "Augie Poole," is played by Henry Heffner, who is making his second appearance at the Mount Cathalia Playhouse. Heffner was previously featured earlier this season in "The Seven Year Itch." He has been seen on "The Witness," and the "NBC Catholic Hour" television series. He has also appeared in the Off-Broadway productions of "Call Me by My Rightful Name," and "The Wide Open Cage."

Tojan Matchanga portrays the role of "Isolde Poole," which marks her third appearance of the season at the Mount Cathalia Playhouse. She has been seen in "The Seven Year Itch," and "The Tender Trap." Miss Matchanga has appeared in the motion pictures, "Inside Danny Baker," and "The Laughmakers," and has been seen by television viewers on Mike Wallace's "PM."

ADMITTING ONLY THOSE INVITED

Q: My wedding reception will be held in a hall and from the past experience of some of my friends, there have been several so-called "crashers" at these gatherings. In order to avoid this happening at my wedding, I was thinking of having two of the ushers stationed at the door with a list of the names of the invited guests and as they arrive, ask their name and check against their list. Those not on the list would of course not be admitted. Will you please tell me if this would be proper?

A: I'm afraid your guests will take exception if you have them stopped at the door while an usher goes through the list to see if they are to be admitted or not. A less displeasing way of keeping "crashers" from your reception would be to enclose admission cards with your invitations reading, "Please present this card at the reception."

Serving After Dinner Coffee

Q: There was a discussion the other day among my friends as to how, and when, demi tasse should be served. We would like to know specifically if it is served without cream and sugar and also if it is served after dinner only, or may it be served after lunch as well?

A: It is served after lunch as well as dinner. Sugar is always offered with it and a thoughtful hostess will have a small pitcher of cream available for the occasional guest who likes a little in his or her coffee.

Paper Frills

Q: What is the purpose of the fancy paper skirts, or sleeves, that are often put on lamb chops?

A: They are for decoration and to hide the charred bones. They are not an invitation to pick up the chops in one's fingers.

Onteora Students Are Spending July At Music School

Seven students from the Onteora School District of Boiceville are spending the month of July at the Summer Music Session for high school students at the University of Vermont.

The students are Shari Kalish, 15; Steve Mercer, 17; and Nancy Ruff, 15, all of Woodstock; Donna Goins, 16, of West Hurley; Cindy Schreiner, 15, of Lake Hill; Judy Dolce, 14, of Ashokan; and Olga Mousset, 15, of Phoenixia.

They are living on the University's Redstone Campus and taking daily instructions in band, chorus, orchestra, and instrumental and vocal ensembles.

Each of the students is a member of one or more performing groups that rehearse two periods a day in preparation for student recitals and ensemble concerts.

The students find that the competition of living and working with others with musical abilities helps them to improve their own talents.

Shari Kalish adds, "Everybody here is so good, it makes you actually want to practice."

"Everybody's interested in music," says Judy Dolce, "No one makes fun of you because you play an instrument."

The sessions are not all work and rehearsals, the students add. Numerous social activities are on the program to fill up spare hours, including a trip to Mount Mansfield in Stowe, Vermont at which Nancy Ruff had a slight mishap.

"It had just rained on Mount Mansfield," says Nancy, "and we were all climbing on a path through the rocks. I slipped and fell in the mud—and split my pants."

Steve Mercer's hobby is bridge, and he plans to fill many of his recreational hours at the card table. "My roommate and I challenged the whole campus to a bridge game," he says.

Moments of humor interrupt the daily routine, frequently, as Donna Goins reports, "I misplaced my sousaphone the other day—it stands five feet high."

Olga Mousset speaks for all the students when she says, "I've broadened my appreciation in music and made a lot of new friends."

'Threepenny Opera' Opens at Woodstock; Features Members of New York Company

By FRED SNYDER
Freeman Staff Writer

When a theatrical production—a summer stock production, at that—projects so few stage flaws that even to mention them would be unforgivably cynical, the critic is left with nothing but hollow nouns and verbs and adjectives of commendation for a performance that is worlds beyond the literary hardware of praise.

Such a stellar production opened last night with M. Edgar Rosenblum presenting "The Threepenny Opera" at Woodstock Playhouse.

Peter Lombard and Estelle Pearson of the New York City company play the leading roles of Mack the Knife and Jenny with a savior-laure comparable to the performers who initiated the Off-Broadway production about 10 years ago.

But it would be an injustice to say that anyone stole the show from the supporting cast. With all the pressures that could so easily inhibit a group of actors and actresses who must learn one part one week and another the next for summer theatre, the Woodstock repertory carries the musical along with unbelievable aplomb, tenderness and comprehension.

Special notice should be registered for Joseph Schaeffer and Arthur Rivittuso, the two-man orchestra which supplied all the accompaniment for the musical. Yet as we've already stated, it is almost impossible merely to talk about a performance that is so striking. Perhaps something might be said about the "opera" itself.

Just about everybody has heard of "The Threepenny Opera" sometime or other. Few people in the area have the slightest idea what it's all about. The musical poem was put together by a Kurt Weill from a book Bertolt Brecht adapted from the 18th Century Beggars Opera.

Like practically all of Brecht's works, this one is a simple story about simple people caught up in relatively simple circumstances. The hero is a guy called Macheath, (Mack the Knife) a crafty devious, sleazy master criminal who has returned to his old stomping ground in the Soho district of London.

He expects his old business to go on as usual, but he hasn't figured that nobody wants him around anymore. He is betrayed by his in-laws, by his old girl friend, his gang and his best friend. And he is henpecked by his most recent wife. What makes it all so tragically upsetting is that Macheath is really such a good guy; nobody seriously regrets anything he's done to them, but for some reason they all feel compelled to see him sacrificed.

Macheath isn't allowed to survive because he's so much bigger than all the little people around him. With his glittering white teeth, his shiny black tux, his manner of slipping—in and out of the streets of Soho, he can't be held down or controlled by anyone. He is above their selfishness, their desires, their cannivings, their egos. And since they aren't capable of dragging him down to their rather undramatic level they must band together and slaughter him.

This all doesn't mean that

Yankees Regain Lead in AL; Williams' HR Tops Giants

Beat Nats, 7-1, As White Sox, Birds Lose Two

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees trimmed Washington 7-1 Tuesday night.

Then they wound up on top of the American League when John Romano powered Cleveland to a 4-2, 8-5 doubleheader sweep over Baltimore and Vic Power came through with the big hit in the Los Angeles Angels' 2-0, 3-2 sweep over the Chicago White Sox.

Romano, a catcher the first game, was in the outfield when his third homer of the evening triggered an eight-run Indian uprising in the eighth inning of the Cleveland-Baltimore nightcap.

The big inning sent the Orioles reeling into second behind New York.

Power was back at first base in the White Sox-Angels second game after an enforced 10-day layoff—the result of a run-in with umpire Jim Honochick in Los Angeles.

Chisox Now Third
He came up in the seventh inning with two outs and cracked a bases-loaded single off Gary Peters that brought the Angels from behind and pushed the Sox into third place, one half game off the pace.

Boston defeated Detroit 7-5 on Dick Stuart's three-run homer and Kansas City nipped Minnesota 5-4 on Rocky Colavito's two-run double in other AL games.

Tom Tresh homered twice and doubled for the Yankees and Jim Bouton won his ninth game in 17 decisions with a four-hit shutout.

Tresh hit a solo homer, his 11th, in the second inning and connected again in the fourth with a man on.

John Blanchard singled in two runs in the sixth and two more scored when Bouton's eighth inning fly ball fell for a double.

Chuck Hinton's sixth inning homer spoiled Bouton's shutout bid.

Romano caught the first game and drove in three runs with a pair of homers—his first in 14 games—and a double. He went to the outfield in the nightcap and Joe Azcue took over behind the plate as the Indians stacked their batting order with right-hand hitters against Baltimore southpaw Steve Barber.

John Powell had three hits in each game for the Orioles, including a first-game homer, his 26th.

Belinsky Wins
The Angels' Bo Belinsky and reliever Bob Lee combined for a seven-hit shutout in the opener against Chicago. Felix Torres homered in the fourth inning and singled in the sixth, driving in both Los Angeles runs.

Jim Fregosi's first inning homer in the nightcap gave the Angels a 1-0 lead but the White Sox came up with two runs on five hits in the bottom of the first.

Relievers Aubrey Gatewood and Bob Duliba blanked the Sox the rest of the way and Power's hit, following a pair of walks and a single by pinch hitter Bob Rodgers, provided the victory margin.

Stuart's 24th homer snapped a 4-4 tie and upped his league-leading RBI total to 84. Bill Monbouquette weathered two home runs each by Norm Cash and George Thomas for his third straight victory.

Colavito's seventh inning double brought Kansas City from a

BATTING — Johnny Romano, Indians, powered Cleveland to 4-2, 8-5 doubleheader sweep that knocked Baltimore out of American League lead, driving in five runs for the night with two homers and a double in the opener and a homer and single in an eight-run eighth inning rally in the nightcap.

PITCHING — Bob Bruce, Colts, kept nine hits well spaced posting his fourth straight victory as Houston edged the Los Angeles Dodgers and Don Drysdale 1-0.

Summer Matinee

Marge Ring scored 214-507 to pace the circuit. Results: Mets 2, Blond Bombers 1; Rag Dolls 2, The Mrs. 1; Dam Dolls 2, Lovers 1; Strikeouts 2, Glads 1.

4-3 deficit and helped hand the Twins their sixth straight setback. He also singled in a run as the Athletics pounded Camilo Pascual, who has lost six of his last seven decisions.

Cubs at .500

For 1st Time; Mets Rap Reds

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy Williams hit a two-strike pitch for a two-run homer that provided the Chicago Cubs with the runs they needed to whip San Francisco 2-1 Tuesday night.

Williams' homer, his 23rd, made the Cubs the latest entry in the National League pennant sweepstakes as they climbed over the .500 level with their fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 games, moving into contending position 7 1/2 games off the pace.

Continue Skid
The Giants, meanwhile, continued their skid, losing their seventh in the last nine games and falling a full game behind front-running Philadelphia. The Phillies, also struggling, defeated Milwaukee 6-3 for only their fifth victory in the last 14 games.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets dropped third-place Cincinnati 3 1/2 games by beating the Reds 4-2, Pittsburgh rode Jerry Lynch's grand slam homer to an 8-4 victory over St. Louis and Houston edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 on Al Spangler's homer.

The Cubs struck in the fourth against Gaylord Perry, now 7-7, when former Giant Joe Amalfitano doubled and Williams followed with his homer. That gave Bob Buhl his 12th victory against five losses although he needed relief help from Bobby Shantz and Don Elston.

The Giants scored in the sixth when Hal Lanier tripled and came home on a wild pitch by Buhl, but Elston cut off their last threat, getting Jim Davenport and Chuck Hiller on soft flies with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Bobby Vinn drove in two runs with a homer and single, Tony Taylor also homered and rookie Richie Allen stroked three hits as the Phillies slowed the Braves, who had won eight of 10 and 16 of their last 22.

Art Mahaffey, 9-4, started for Philadelphia but needed Jack Baldschun's relief help when the Braves loaded the bases with one out in eighth and the Phillies leading only 4-2. Baldschun got Hank Aaron to hit into a force play, then retired Joe Torre on a tap in front of the plate.

4th Over Reds
The Mets made it four straight victories over the Reds as Larry Elliot hit a bases-loaded homer off Joey Jay, 4-8, in the second and walked before Jesse Gonder homered in the fourth.

The victory went to Bill Wakefield, who pitched 5 1/3 innings of two-hit relief after the Reds chased Tracy Stallard with two walks and singles by Deron Johnson and Gordy Coleman.

Lynch smashed his grand slam off Ron Taylor in a five-run fifth inning that gave the Pirates more than enough to beat the Cardinals. Taylor took over for starter and loser Ray Sadecki, 10-8, after rain delayed the game 81 minutes.

Joe Gibbon, 7-3, needed relief help to win it after Mike Shannon hit a three-run homer for the Cardinals in the eighth.

Spangler's leadoff homer in the eighth broke up a pitchers' duel between the Colts' Bob Bruce and Don Drysdale of the Dodgers.

Bruce kept nine hits well spaced and stranded four Dodgers on third base as he brought his record to 11-4 with his fourth straight victory. Drysdale, 12-9, allowed only five hits.

Hodges Claims Yanks Are Not Sure Winners

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil Hodges is not one of those who thinks the New York Yankees are a sure thing to win the American League pennant—even though they moved back to first Tuesday night.

Before the meeting between his Washington club and the defending champions, the popular manager said he was more certain his Senators would not finish in the cellar than he was of the Yankees winning the pennant.

"The Yankees are having some trouble with their pitching," Hodges said. "If the Orioles and White Sox continue to get the strong pitching they have been getting, the Yankees are in for a lot of trouble."

It didn't work that way Tuesday night. Both the Orioles and White Sox lost doubleheaders while the Yankees defeated the Senators handily 7-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Jim Bouton. That put the Yanks back on top, and Tom Tresh had a lot to do with it.

Capable Fill In
With Mickey Mantle sidelined because of an upset stomach, Tresh filled in in center field slot and also assumed the heavy duty. The younger of the two Yankee switch hitters enjoyed a perfect night at bat with a pair of homers, a double and a walk. He also stole a base and scored four runs.

Tresh is currently on a hot hitting streak. He has connect-

Bostic Beaten In State Play

Harvey Bostic of Wiltwyck Country Club was eliminated from the New York State Amateur golf championship yesterday at Cooperstown, 1-up by Warner Berry of Ithaca. Bostic was the only local participant in the tournament, which began its championship flight on Tuesday at the up-state course.

Don Allen Wins State Golf Match

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Defending champion Don Allen, a part-time soldier for Uncle Sam, carried his heavy golfing artillery today into the second round of the New York State Men's Amateur Tournament.

The long-hitting Rochester insurance man was paired today against Marvin Olshan of White Plains after both men gained first round victories.

Sixty-four contestants remained in competition after first-round activity cut the opening-day field in half over the drought-baked, 6,554-yard course at the Cooperstown Country Club.

Allen, 26, who returned only days ago from two weeks of active duty with the U.S. Army Reserve, boomed out long, straight drives Tuesday in defeating Ed Jachim of Whitesboro, 7 and 6. Allen has won the state title in 1961 and 1963.

The tournament calls for three and fourth rounds of 18 holes each Thursday, quarter and semi-final rounds of 18 holes each Friday and the 36-hole final Saturday.

In the Woodstock Ladies' member guest tournament, Betty McGrath, member, and Emil Riegel, guest, both shot 87s to capture low gross honors. The low gross team award went to Sally Van Wagenen and Emil Riegel with a combined 196.

There were 40 entries in the event at the Woodstock Country Club.

Beat Nats, 7-1, As White Sox, Birds Lose Two

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees trimmed Washington 7-1 Tuesday night.

Then they wound up on top of the American League when John Romano powered Cleveland to a 4-2, 8-5 doubleheader sweep over Baltimore and Vic Power came through with the big hit in the Los Angeles Angels' 2-0, 3-2 sweep over the Chicago White Sox.

Romano, a catcher the first game, was in the outfield when his third homer of the evening triggered an eight-run Indian uprising in the eighth inning of the Cleveland-Baltimore nightcap.

The big inning sent the Orioles reeling into second behind New York.

Power was back at first base in the White Sox-Angels second game after an enforced 10-day layoff—the result of a run-in with umpire Jim Honochick in Los Angeles.

Chisox Now Third

He came up in the seventh inning with two outs and cracked a bases-loaded single off Gary Peters that brought the Angels from behind and pushed the Sox into third place, one half game off the pace.

Boston defeated Detroit 7-5 on Dick Stuart's three-run homer and Kansas City nipped Minnesota 5-4 on Rocky Colavito's two-run double in other AL games.

Tom Tresh homered twice and doubled for the Yankees and Jim Bouton won his ninth game in 17 decisions with a four-hitter.

Tresh hit a solo homer, his 11th, in the second inning and connected again in the fourth with a man on. John Blanchard singled in two runs in the sixth and two more scored when Bouton's eighth inning fly ball fell for a double.

Chuck Hinton's sixth inning homer spoiled Bouton's shutout bid.

Romano caught the first game and drove in three runs with a pair of homers—his first in 14 games—and a double. He went to the outfield in the nightcap and Joe Azcue took over behind the plate as the Indians stacked their batting order with right-hand hitters against Baltimore southpaw Steve Barber.

John Powell had three hits in each game for the Orioles, including a first-game homer, his 26th.

Belinsky Wins

The Angels' Bo Belinsky and reliever Bob Lee combined for a seven-hit shutout in the opener against Chicago. Felix Torres homered in the fourth inning and singled in the sixth, driving in both Los Angeles runs.

Jim Fregosi's first inning homer in the nightcap gave the Angels a 1-0 lead but the White Sox came up with two runs on five hits in the bottom of the first.

Relievers Aubrey Gatewood and Bob Dulliba blanked the Sox the rest of the way and Power's hit, following a pair of walks and a single by pinch hitter Bob Rodgers, provided the victory margin.

Stuart's 24th homer snapped a 14 tie and upped his league-leading RBI total to 84. Bill Monbouquette weathered two home runs each by Norm Cash and George Thomas for his third straight victory.

Colavito's seventh inning double brought Kansas City from a

BATTING — Johnny Romano, Indians, powered Cleveland to 4-2, 8-5 doubleheader sweep that knocked Baltimore out of American League lead, driving in five runs for the night with two homers and a double in the opener and a homer and single in an eight-run eighth inning rally in the nightcap.

Cubs at .500

For 1st Time; Mets Rap Reds

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Billy Williams hit a two-strike pitch for a two-run homer that provided the Chicago Cubs with the runs they needed to whip San Francisco 2-1 Tuesday night.

Williams' homer, his 23rd, made the Cubs the latest entry in the National League pennant sweepstakes as they climbed over the .500 level with their fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 games, moving into contending position 7 1/2 games off the pace.

The Giants, meanwhile, continued their skid, losing their seventh in the last nine games and falling a full game behind front-running Philadelphia. The Phillies, also struggling, defeated Milwaukee 6-3 for only their fifth victory in the last 14 games.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets dropped third-place Cincinnati 3 1/2 games by beating the Reds 4-2. Pittsburgh rode Jerry Lynch's grand slam homer to an 8-4 victory over St. Louis and Houston edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 on Al Spangler's homer.

The Cubs struck in the fourth against Gaylord Perry, now 7-7, when former Giant Joe Amalfitano doubled and Williams followed with his homer. That gave Bob Buhl his 12th victory against five losses although he needed relief help from Bobby Shantz and Don Elston.

The Giants scored in the sixth when Hal Lanier tripled and Eddie Murray homered. Buhl, but Elston cut off their last threat, getting Jim Davenport and Chuck Hiller on soft flies with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Bobby Wine drove in two runs with a homer and single, Tony Taylor also homered and rookie Richie Allen stroked three hits as the Phillies slowed the Braves, who had won eight of 10 and 16 of their last 22.

Art Mahaffey, 9-4, started for Philadelphia but needed Jack Baldschun's relief help when the Braves loaded the bases with one out in eighth and the Phillies leading only 4-2. Baldschun got Hank Aaron to hit into a force play, then retired Joe Torre on a tap in front of the plate.

4th Over Reds
The Mets made it four straight victories over the Reds as Larry Elliot hit a bases-empty homer off Joey Jay, 4-8, in the second and walked before Jesse Gonder homered in the fourth.

The victory went to Bill Wakefield, who pitched 5 1/3 innings of two-hit relief after the Reds chased Tracy Stallard with two fourth inning runs on a pair of walks and singles by Deron Johnson and Gordy Coleman.

Lynch smashed his grand slam off Ron Taylor in a five-run fifth inning that gave the Pirates more than enough to beat the Cardinals. Taylor took over for starter and loser Ray Sadecki, 10-8, after rain delayed the game 81 minutes.

Joe Gibbon, 7-3, needed relief help to win it after Mike Shannon hit a three-run homer for the Cardinals in the eighth.

Spangler's leadoff homer in the eighth broke up a pitchers' duel between the Colts' Bob Bruce and Don Drysdale of the Dodgers.

Bruce kept nine hits well spaced and stranded four Dodgers on third base as he brought his record to 11-4 with his fourth straight victory. Drysdale, 12-9, allowed only five hits.

Hodges Claims Yanks Are Not Sure Winners
By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Gil Hodges is not one of those who thinks the New York Yankees are a sure thing to win the American League pennant—even though they moved back to first Tuesday night.

Before the meeting between his Washington club and the defending champions, the popular manager said he was more certain his Senators would not finish in the cellar than he was of the Yankees winning the pennant.

"The Yankees are having some trouble with their pitching," Hodges said. "If the Orioles and White Sox continue to get the strong pitching they have been getting, the Yankees are in for a lot of trouble."

It didn't work that way Tuesday night. Both the Orioles and White Sox lost doubleheaders while the Yankees defeated the Senators handily 7-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Jim Bouton.

That put the Yanks back on top, and Tom Tresh had a lot to do with it.

With Mickey Mantle sidelined because of an upset stomach, Tresh filled in center field slot and also assumed the heavy duty. The younger of the two Yankee switch hitters enjoyed a perfect night at bat with a pair of homers, a double and a walk. He also stole a base and scored four runs.

Don Allen Wins State Golf Match

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)

—Defending champion Don Allen, a part-time soldier for Uncle Sam, carried his heavy golfing artillery today into the second round of the New York State Men's Amateur Tournament.

The long-hitting Rochester insurance man was paired today against Marvin Olshan of White Plains after both men gained first round victories.

Sixty-four contestants remained in competition after first-round activity cut the opening-day field in half over the drought-baked, 6,554-yard course at the Cooperstown Country Club.

Allen, 26, who returned only days ago from two weeks of active duty with the U.S. Army Reserve, boomed out long, straight drives Tuesday in defeating Ed Jacobi of Whitesboro, 7 and 6. Allen has won the state title in 1961 and 1963.

The tournament calls for third and fourth rounds of 18 holes each Thursday, quarter and semi-final rounds of 18 holes each Friday and the 36-hole final Saturday.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET—Freight Comet (9th)

UPSET CHANCE—Countrymon (2nd)

1. RUCKY REVONAH appears best if on gait. MACARONI has an appealing name. RED RODNEY in hands of a craftsman.

2. FINGO'S BOY won from the pole. Can repeat, despite post. COUNTRYMON can surprise with a top drive. HOPEFUL ELISE copped last but the time was slow.

3. MURDOCK HANOVER is picked here on a hunch. STRONGHOLD is the one to beat. MISSILE HANOVER is fast but is a habitual breaker.

4. DAY ABBOT is a steady trotter. JEANETTE OREGON won last with ease. Is the competition. SPEEDY G still seeking initial victory.

5. COLD SPRING MARYAN won last for fun. With Popfinger driving, should cop again. SPIROY in a good stable. Tab for the future. PAULETTE WICK closes well. Has to be considered.

6. VICTORY HOLMES was locked inside and couldn't get out. Was the best horse at the finish. DUTCH CANDOTT won the last for fun. TOPOZ SUE got caught with a past pace and backed up at the end. Has some class.

7. HOBBO JET has been knocking at the door. Can finally win one. BLUE MOUNTAIN will be tough with Cobb doing the driving. KATHLEEN GRAT-TAN almost never wins.

8. PHIL'S HARLAN GIRL seeking third straight. Hasn't much to beat. HAL MERRY has the pole and a good finishing kick. OUR ADIOS is the best of the rest.

9. FREIGHT COMET an outstanding youngster. The night's best bet. SZIKLAI ENTRY and CARPENTER ENTRY are next in line.

Vernon Winner Returns $355.40

Record pari-mutuel payoffs were made Tuesday night at two tracks on the New York State harness racing circuit.

At Vernon Downs, Josie Mac Dee, a 176-1 shot, came home first in the sixth race for across-the-board returns of $355.40, $45.90 and $16.30.

The winning payoff was the highest in the history of the 12-year-old oval, bettering the $254 paid on Castle Comet in 1957. And at Monticello Raceway, there was a single winner of the $25,058 twin-double. The total was a season's high for the track.

In the feature events on the circuit: Vernon—Adam Hanover ($6.10) captured the $2,250 pace in 2:02 3-5.

Monticello—Mountain Paul ($21.30) won the $1,200 conditioned pace in 2:05 4-5.

Saratoga Raceway—Timely Queen ($16.30), with a time of 2:54 1-5 in the first division, took the trophy in the $3,800 pace. Lansing Hanover ($4.30) took division two in 2:07 2-5.

Batavia Downs—Marie Tassel ($7.60) copped the $900 conditioned pace in 2:08 3-5.

Yonkers Raceway—Bill Hall's ($9), clocked in 2:03, was the winner in the $6,000 Lichee Tree pace.

The Knights and 35 Club each had a big fifth inning but the winners scored one more time in that frame and also added solo markers in the second and fourth. A curfew halted the game after the sixth frame.

George Dougherty and Julius Chick shared the mound assignment for the winners while Paul Koepfen went all the way to suffer the setback.

UPSET CHANCE—Countrymon (2nd)

1. RUCKY REVONAH appears best if on gait. MACARONI has an appealing name. RED RODNEY in hands of a craftsman.

2. FINGO'S BOY won from the pole. Can repeat, despite post. COUNTRYMON can surprise with a top drive. HOPEFUL ELISE copped last but the time was slow.

3. MURDOCK HANOVER is picked here on a hunch. STRONGHOLD is the one to beat. MISSILE HANOVER is fast but is a habitual breaker.

4. DAY ABBOT is a steady trotter. Might win this in the stretch. JEANETTE OREGON won last with ease. Is the competition. SPEEDY G. still seeking initial victory.

5. COLD SPRING MARYAN won last for fun. With Popfinger driving should cop again. SPIROY in a good stable. Tab for the future. PAULETTE WICK closes well. Has to be considered.

6. VICTORY HOLMES was locked inside and couldn't get out. Was the best horse at the finish. DUTCH CANDOIT won the last for fun. TOPAZ SUE got caught with a past pace and backed up at the end. Has some class.

7. HOBBO JET has been knocking at the door. Can finally win one. BLUE MOUNTAIN will be tough with Cobb doing the driving. KATHLEEN GRAT-TAN almost never wins.

8. PHIL'S HARLAN GIRL seeking third straight. Hasn't much to beat. HAL MERRY has the pole and a good finishing kick. OUR ADIOS is the best of the rest.

9. FREIGHT COMET an outstanding youngster. The night's best bet. SZIKLAI ENTRY and CARPENTER ENTRY are next in line.

Vernon Winner Returns $355.40

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Record pari-mutuel payoffs were made Tuesday night at two tracks on the New York State harness racing circuit.

At Vernon Downs, Josie Mac Dee, a 176-1 shot, came home first in the sixth race for across-the-board returns of $355.40, $45.90 and $16.30.

The winning payoff was the highest in the history of the 12-year-old oval, bettering the $254 paid on Castle Comet in 1957.

And at Monticello Raceway, there was a single winner of the $25,058 twin-double. The total was a season's high for the track.

In the feature events on the circuit:

Vernon-Adam Hanover ($6-10) captured the $2,250 pace in 2:02 2-5.

Monticello—Mountain Paul ($21.30) won the $1,200 conditioned pace in 2:05 4-5.

Saratoga Raceway—Timely Queen ($16.30), with a time of 2:04 1-5 in the first division, took the trophy in the $3,800 pace. Lansing Hanover ($4.30) took division two in 2:07 2-5.

Batavia Downs—Marie Tassel ($7.60) copped the $900 conditioned pace in 2:08 3-5.

Italy Press Strike Ends

ROME (AP)—Italy's long series of newspaper strikes ended Tuesday night with the signing of a new two-year contract for non-editorial workers.

The contract provides a general 12 per cent wage boost over the next two years. Agreement came two days after the end of a walkout that closed most Italian papers for four days.

Roger Vogt Hurls No-Hitter, Rotary Decisions Vols, 8-0

K of C Beats 35 Club, 7-5, In Other Tilt

Roger Vogt pitched a no-hitter, striking out 11 batters and allowing only five opponents to reach first base as Rotary Club blanked the Vols, 8-0, in a Babe Ruth league game Tuesday at the Athletic field.

In the other circuit tilt, the Knights of Columbus notched a 7-5 win over the 35 Club.

National league standings:

Rotary clinched its game early, getting four runs at the start and three more in the second inning. Vogt aided his cause with a double and teammate Pete Helmich also swatted a two-base hit.

The Knights and 35 Club each had a big fifth inning but the winners scored one more time in that frame and also added solo markers in the second and fourth. A curfew halted the game after the sixth frame.

George Dougherty and Julius Chick shared the mound assignment for the winners while Paul Koeppen went all the way to suffer the setback.

Tonight's slate has the Masons and Legion meeting at Dietz Stadium and the Elks opposing Hurley at the Athletic Field.

Big Mike Spada scattered 10 hits and S and E Farms broke into the win column for the first time in the second half of whipping the Port Ewen Merchants, 10-3, in a City Baseball league game last night at Dietz stadium.

The winners clinched matters with a six run explosion at the expense of loser Rich Terpening in the third inning.

Don VanKeuren tripped to ac-

Bargains Still Exist Despite Market Hikes

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Many so-called secondary stocks with good growth prospects are selling at relatively low multiples of 10 to 13 times earnings and are trading near their 1962 lows, Spear & Staff, Inc., investment advisors, point out.

"We can't remember a time in the past ten years where such a wide discrepancy existed for so long between leading Dow issues and the vast bulk of secondaries," said Roger E. Spear, president.

Spear feels that the anomaly will eventually be corrected, with secondaries possibly moving higher in the not-too-distant future.

Noting that the Goldwater nomination hardly caused a ripple in the market, Spear said: "This event was already pretty much discounted. Politics may affect the market later, but not for the present."

Warm, Humid Period Through Tuesday Outlook

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, as prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 a.m. Thursday through 7 a.m. Tuesday:

Eastern New York — Warm and humid through most of the period. Temperatures are expected to average well above normal. No indication of general rainfall but scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers are likely throughout the period. Total rainfall will be spotty and generally sparse.

Western New York — Temperatures will average 5 to 7 degrees above normal. Warm Thursday, hot and humid Friday and Saturday, cooler and less humid Sunday or Sunday night and near normal Monday. Scattered thundershowers over the weekend and a few widely scattered thunder showers Thursday and Friday. Total rainfall will average about one-tenth of an inch.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs, 78-85. Nighttime lows, 59-64.

Most of Viet Battalion Lost To Red Troops

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The Communist Viet Cong destroyed 75 per cent of a government battalion and captured an American sergeant in one phase of bloody engagements Tuesday near the southern tip of Viet Nam, accounts from the scene said today.

In all, at least 26 government troops were killed and 135 were missing and presumed captured by the Red guerrillas in a battle set off by the ambushing of a government truck convoy. A U.S. Army captain was among the wounded brought to Saigon. Of the several government units involved, the 1st Battalion of the 31st Infantry seemed hardest hit. Only 87 men emerged unharmed from a surprise attack by Communist bushwhackers. The remaining 263 were either killed, wounded or missing.

Sgt. Ben Munsey of Manchester, N.H., flying a tiny spotter plane at tree-top level, was a horrified spectator.

"I could not believe my eyes," he said. "One moment there was only green vegetation and water with khaki-clad government troops wending their way slowly through it. Suddenly 400 black-clothed men erupted among them, shooting and maneuvering with practiced efficiency. They were the fastest-moving men I have ever seen in my life."

June Gets More

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress June Allyson, widow of Dick Powell, has obtained a $300 monthly increase in her child support allowance from the actor's estate.

Superior Court Tuesday granted a petition boosting the allowance to $2,500 a month. Miss Allyson said she needed the extra money because the illness of her second husband prevents her from seeking employment. Her children are Pamela, 16, and Richard, 14.

The actress married Glenn Maxwell, once Powell's barber, last October, about 10 months after Powell died.

Hudson Will Bar Greenport Pupils As of Next July

The Hudson Board of Education has announced that beginning July 1, 1965, students in the Greenport District No. 1, will be barred from attending classes at Hudson High School. Overcrowding in the Hudson High School is given as the reason.

A statement issued by the Hudson board reports that as a result of overcrowding in the Hudson High School some students are being deprived of their educational opportunities.

A year's notice must be given in advance of the exclusion of students. The notice states that beginning with the 1965-66 school year students in grades 9 to 12 residing in the Greenport School District No. 1, will be excluded from further attendance at the Hudson school. In making the announcement the board noted that it would at all times cooperate in every possible manner to effect consolidation with any interested school district which by law is permitted to consolidate with the Hudson School District.

Two in Truck Are Hurt as Vehicle Hits Goldfarb's

Two men were injured, a house was damaged and some milk was spilled in a mishap involving a delivery truck of the Boice Brothers Dairy, Lake Katrine at Pearl and Burgevin streets this morning.

Police said the driver apparently lost control in his attempt to catch a case of milk which had shifted and was about to fall.

John P. Tomkins, 27, of Saugerties, driver, was treated at Kingston Hospital for a laceration of the left arm and leg bruises, and Floyd H. Hummel, 47, of St. Remy, who was with him, for lacerations of the left arm and neck. They were taken to the hospital by Fatum ambulance.

The truck struck a house owned by Dr. Saul Goldfarb on Burgevin Street. The mishap broke milk bottles and considerable milk was spilled. The truck was towed from the scene. The mishap was reported at 9:25 a. m. and was investigated by Officers Raymond Wells and Thomas Coffey.

The longest mountain range on earth is underwater. The Mid-Atlantic Ridge, 300 to 600 miles wide, runs nearly 10,000 miles from Iceland almost to the Antarctic Circle. Pico Island, highest peak in the ridge, rises 27,000 feet from the ocean floor and 7,615 above sea level.

Welcome Rain Soaks Talent Show Viewers at Valley Forge

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)— "We didn't mean to do a rain dance," Hidesaburo Kurushima, a Boy Scout from Tokyo, Japan, said as thundershowers soaked some 52,000 boys watching a world talent show at the sixth National Boy Scout Jamboree.

Kurushima and 17 other Japanese scouts dressed in shoe-length kimonos danced and bowed on the 350-foot grass stage at historic Valley Forge as the rains came down. "We Like It" "Don't worry," Karl-Summar Fridman, of Stockholm, Sweden, interjected, "we like it."

The nine scouts he brought put on a life-saving demonstration. A Canadian troop attending the show, put on by 758 scouts from 42 foreign countries, sat almost unmoving in the big open air arena and let the rain soak their clothes late Tuesday.

"Why should we move and run for cover?" asked Tom Thompson of Cobourg, Ontario. "We were waiting for this for six days."

It was a real international gathering—a "jolly good show," said one of England's 19 scouts. Boys of all nations, of all races, of all religions, of all shapes mixed—and swapped, particularly, handshakes. They

Carpenter Under Knife

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astro-naut M. Scott Carpenter has undergone minor surgery and will have to stay in a Houston hospital for a few more days.

Carpenter broke a toe on his left foot and suffered a fractured arm in a motorbike accident last Thursday in Bermuda. He was to have been discharged from the hospital today, but doctors decided on an operation on the broken toe to improve the condition of the dislocation. Surgeons also corrected a minor deformity on Carpenter's right foot. He requested the operation.

spoke of friendships, not politics.

All Good Scouts

Two scouts from Jordan sang a song, and two boys from Israel listened and applauded. Taly Silber, 17, Jerusalem, then sang, too.

There was a babble of strange sounds as scouts across the world sought to find the words each could understand. The talent wasn't professional, but the thousands who sat and cheered and yelled liked it well. They asked questions about the different native costumes.

Six Pakistanis danced. So did eight from the republic of China and six from South Korea. An eight-boy patrol from Trinidad did a hot calypso and nine Iranians sang two native songs, followed by African folk music by six Nigerians.

Capitol News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The

House Rules Committee has cleared for floor debate sometime next week a bill to increase Social Security benefits and extend coverage to some 500,000 additional retired persons.

If the legislation reaches the Senate, it may provide a vehicle to revive the Johnson administration's proposal to set up a health care plan for the aged with Social Security taxes.

The House Ways and Means Committee rejected the health plan, but it provided a 5 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security payments and relaxed coverage requirements for aged persons previously barred because of insufficient length of working time.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The

House has given overwhelming approval to a bill that would let homeowners block "morally offensive" mail. Opponents said the legislation invades the right of free speech.

Passage came Tuesday on a 325-19 roll-call vote. The bill now goes to the Senate.

A person who received mail he considered morally offensive could notify the postmaster general he wants future mailings from that source stopped. The sender would have 30 days to comply with the postmaster general's order.

If the mailings continued, the sender would be subject to contempt of court action.

Bargains Still Exist Despite Market Highs

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Many so-called secondary stocks with good growth prospects are selling at relatively low multiples of 10 to 13 times earnings and are trading near their 1962 lows, Spear & Staff, Inc., investment advisors, point out.

"We can't remember a time in the past ten years where such a wide discrepancy existed for so long between leading Dow issues and the vast bulk of secondaries," said Roger E. Spear, president.

Spear feels that the anomaly will eventually be corrected, with secondaries possibly moving higher in the not-too-distant future.

Noting that the Goldwater nomination hardly caused a ripple in the market, Spear said: "This event was already pretty much discounted. Politics may affect the market later, but not for the present."

Warm, Humid Period Through Tuesday Outlook

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, as prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 a.m. Thursday through 7 a.m. Tuesday:

Eastern New York — Warm and humid through most of the period. Temperatures are expected to average well above normal. No indication of general rainfall but scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers are likely throughout the period. Total rainfall will be spotty and generally sparse.

Western New York—Temperatures will average 5 to 7 degrees above normal. Warm Thursday, hot and humid Friday and Saturday, cooler and less humid Sunday or Sunday night and near normal Monday. Scattered thundershowers over the weekend and a few widely scattered thunder showers Thursday and Friday. Total rainfall will average about one-tenth of an inch.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs, 78-85. Nighttime lows, 59-64.

Most of Viet Battalion Lost To Red Troops

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The Communist Viet Cong destroyed 75 per cent of a government battalion and captured an American sergeant in one phase of bloody engagements Tuesday near the southern tip of Viet Nam, accounts from the scene said today.

In all, at least 26 government troops were killed and 135 were missing and presumed captured by the Red guerrillas in a battle set off by the ambushing of a government truck convoy. A U.S. Army captain was among the wounded brought to Saigon. Of the several government units involved, the 1st Battalion of the 31st Infantry seemed hardest hit. Only 87 men emerged uninjured from a surprise attack by Communist bushwhackers. The remaining 263 were either killed, wounded or missing.

Sgt. Ben Munsy of Manchester, N.H., flying a tiny spotter plane at tree-top level, was a horrified spectator.

"I could not believe my eyes," he said. "One moment there was only green vegetation and water with khaki-clad government troops wending their way slowly through it. Suddenly 400 black-clad men erupted among them, shooting and maneuvering with practiced efficiency. They were the fastest-moving men I have ever seen in my life."

June Gets More

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress June Allyson, widow of Dick Powell, has obtained a $500 monthly increase in her child support allowance from the actor's estate.

Superior Court Tuesday granted a petition boosting the allowance to $2,500 a month. Miss Allyson said she needed the extra money because the illness of her second husband prevents her from seeking employment. Her children are Pamela, 16, and Richard, 14.

The actress married Glenn Maxwell, once Powell's barber, last October, about 10 months after Powell died.

Questions
QUESTION: My car, which I use in business was badly damaged in a collision and I have to rent a car to make my business calls. The other driver was at fault and his insurance company has agreed to settle. Can I put in a claim for the cost of the rented car?

ANSWER: We know of a number of cases where such claims have been allowed but we suggest you give your own insurance agent the facts and see what he advises.
